Study Site Here for Munitions Plant

U. S. OFFICIALS REQUIRE 6,000 ACRES OF LAND

Tract in County Considered For One of 60 Plants To Be Built in Midwest.

M'GREGOR TELLS OF PLAN

Congressman Informed by War Department That Richland Area's Being Studied.

The United States war department is considering Richland county as the possible site of one of a chain of 60 munitions plants, to be built at a cost of $700,000,000, it was learned today

At the request of the war department, the real estate department of the Pennsylvania railroad is surveying possible locations for such plants, and a huge tract in this county—embracing some 6,000 acres, or about 10 square miles—is under consideration.

Confirmation of reports that a Richland county site was being considered came from the war department and the railroad today, through Congressman J. Harry McGregor, in Washington.

McGregor, in a telephone conversation with The News-Journal today, said that Major Lovett, in charge of the war department's public relations department, and Paul White, Pittsburgh, in charge of the Pennsylvania railroad's real estate department, Ohio division, had advised him that a survey was being made of sites in Richland county for location of such a plant.

Requirements of the war department for establishment of such a plant, it was learned, include an area of some 6,000 acres in country described as "level to rolling" with an adequate supply of water. For munitions plants, adequate water may run as high as 2,000,000 gallons per day, an unusually large amount—about as much as the entire city of Mansfield normally uses.

The war department, planning these munitions plants as permanent department fixtures, is attempting to locate them in midwestern United States, east of the Mississippi wherever possible, with adequate transportation facilities

JAPANESE RAID

American Mission Damaged By Bombs at Chungking.

CHUNGKING — (NS) — Japanese bombs damaged the American Methodist mission and others fell within a few yards of the American embassy as Chungking suffered its first air raid of the month today.

Ninety Japanese planes took part in the raid, swooping over Chungking in three waves and dropping hundreds of bombs. The attack was one of the heaviest in the long list which have inflicted heavy damage on the city.

One of the main buildings of the Methodist mission and a gate house were destroyed by the bombs, some fell in the mission compound. There was no immediate announcement of casualties.

REPUDIATED

Buffalo's Democratic Mayor Denies He's Bolted.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(NS)—An erroneous Washington report listing Mayor Thomas L. Holling of Buffalo as among those Democrats bolting to the Wendell Willkie camp was definitely repudiated today.

On behalf of the mayor, it was stated: "Mayor Holling definitely and positively has stated in all press interviews that he is one of those Democrats who will not ally himself to the Willkie cause."

PLAN BOND ISSUE

CANTON — (AP) — The state board of tax appeals will be asked by Canton's city council, under a resolution adopted last night, to approve a $66,250 municipal bond issue to pay salary claims of 160 police and firemen laid off in 1932 as an economy measure. The state supreme court held the layoff illegal.

Attack on Stewardess Becomes Deep Mystery

QUIZ PASSENGERS

Girl Swallowed Key to Prevent Assailant Getting It.

(By United Press)

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—What happened to the beautiful young stewardess of the luxurious sleeper plane high over the Tennessee mountains became more of a mystery today as postal authorities ordered the plane's mail impounded for inspection.

The order—plus a new disclosure—gave the mystery a sinister cast. The man the girl said slugged her from behind in search of the key to the baggage compartment, actually got into the compartment though she swallowed the key to prevent him from getting in. The compartment contained part of the ship's mail cargo

Postal Inspector Thomas Cotton rode with the plane's passengers on to Los Angeles and soon after he arrived there, he ordered all mail that had been aboard the plane held up pending the completion of his investigation.

He interrogated all the passengers, took their names and addresses, and permitted them to go their way. Some passengers who left the plane here, had not been questioned, however.

Officials of American Airlines, Inc., operators of the plane, had asserted that Stewardess Rosemary Griffith, 24, had been found unconscious in the women's lounge. They permitted no outsiders to talk to her in a local hospital, but quoted her as saying that a man had entered, demanded the key to the baggage compartment, then slugged her before she could see him. On the floor, before she lost consciousness, she swallowed the key to be sure that he wouldn't get it.

Chatter Corner In Bow Today

It's not gossip, folks, and maybe you wouldn't call it news—but it's fascinating. It's a new column in chatty style relating little everyday things about Mansfielders at home and on the street.

They're not the kind of things seen through keyholes or jeweled lorgnettes. They're just ordinary personal trivia seen through the good old eyeball.

We will call it the "Chatter Corner" and you'll find this new daily feature making its initial appearance on the first page of the second section of today's News-Journal.

SAYS NUMBERS 'HEADQUARTERS' IN MANSFIELD

Jailed Norwalk Man Tells of Alleged Racket Operations Branching From City.

A Norwalk man arrested by Huron county authorities yesterday in a drive against the numbers racket was reported today to have named a Mansfield combine as operator of the policy game in this area.

The man, who gave the name of Glenn Doll, 19, is being held in the county jail at Norwalk on a charge of soliciting tickets on a game of chance, Huron County Prosecutor Rex F. Bracy said.

Bracy said he had obtained a statement from Doll in which he had named several Mansfielders as operators of the numbers game in Huron and surrounding counties

Informed of Doll's statement, Richland County Prosecutor G. W. Marriott said he "knew nothing about the numbers operations" in Mansfield, but indicated that he may investigate the reports.

Police Chief Meade K. Bates could not be reached for a statement.

The Huron prosecutor declined to divulge the names he obtained. He stated that the arrest of Doll was the start of a drive to "clear" the numbers game from the county.

"I'm not interested in cleaning up Mansfield or any other city," he explained. "But we are going to clean them out of Huron county if we have to seek the arrest of the superiors," which he declared were located in Mansfield and Chicago.

Bracy said today he had not yet talked to Richland county authorities and was not sure what steps would be taken in his drive to keep number writers out of Huron county.

He said Doll confessed that he was working for a Norwalk operator who was engaged by a Mansfield concern.

BRIDE-ELECT TAKES POISON

Death of Woman Just Few Weeks Before Marriage Probed.

CINCINNATI —(NS)— Coroner Frank M. Coppock, Jr., today investigated the death of Miss Winfred Wallace, 35-year-old laboratory technician who reportedly took her own life a few weeks before she was scheduled to marry.

A note apparently intended for her fiance was found beside her body on the bank of Burnet Woods lake. According to police, it read, "I took poison—good-by darling."

She was to have married Mathias Noheimer, an art teacher, in a few weeks. Friends said the victim had suffered frequently from headaches.

PRINCE BORN

Youngest Daughter of Italian King Has Son

ROME — (NS) — A son was born today to Princess Maria Bourbon-Parma, youngest daughter of King Victor Emmanuel.

This was the princess' first child. She was married to Prince Louis of Bourbon-Parma in January 1939.

Top picture shows Rosemary Griffith, 24, stewardess on an American Airlines plane, victim of a mysterious attack while the plane was in the air. She was found unconscious in the ship's mail compartment. Lower picture shows Nashville police entering the plane to search for fingerprints that might lead to identity of Miss Griffith's assailant.

FINAL BLAST

Democrats Get Last Shot In Acceptance Speeches.

HYDE PARK, N. Y. — (U.P.) — President Roosevelt revealed today that Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace will accept the Democratic vice-presidential nomination at notification ceremonies at Des Moines, Iowa, on Aug. 29.

The agreement upon an Aug. 29 acceptance ceremony gives the New Deal the final shot in the exchange of notification oratory, Wendell L. Willkie and his running mate accept on Aug. 17 and Aug. 27 respectively, and Wallace will be able to offer a rejoiner in his acceptance to any criticism the Republican nominees make of administration policies

50 Youths Enroll In School For Training Civilian Pilots

Fifty youths from the Mansfield district, five of them girls, attended the opening two-hour session of the Civilian Pilot Training school last night at the Senior high school.

They embarked on a course of instruction which will gave them 72 hours of aviation schooling. Classes will meet each Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday for the next five weeks.

The course had been originally set up on a 12-week schedule but was revised to be completed by Sept. 15 under the Civil Aeronautics authority's expanded program

Under James R. Harrington, the CAA's ground school and flight training instructor, students will be schooled in a rigid course made up of nine different subjects

It will include two hours of the history of aviation, 15 of theory of flight and aircraft, 12 hours of civil air regulations, 15 hours of navigation, 15 hours of meteorology, one hour of parachute schooling, five hours on airplane power plants, five hours on airplane instruments, and two hours on radio uses and terms.

At the close of the course examinations in all resulations and navigation and meteorology will be conducted by the Civil Aeronautics board

Under the present arrangement, the board will award 10 flight scholarships to the highest ranking students of the course. It is possible, however, that this number may be swelled to a larger total before the course is com

Trolley Made First Run Here 52 Years Ago on a Gala Day

On the 52nd anniversary of the first electric street car run in Mansfield the last of the old trolley tracks are being torn up on West Fourth street. It was on Aug. 8, 1888 that the first electric street car appeared on Mansfield streets, making the run up North Main street hill before hundreds of thrilled, doubting and curious onlookers.

For many years Mansfield claimed the distinction of having the first electric street car of the over head trolley type in the world, disputing the claim of Richmond, Va., to that honor, but it has been definitely established that the Richmond line went into operation on Jan. 9 of that same year.

52 years ago. There had been electrically operated cars before, running on third rails, but Mansfield's new line, launched by the Mansfield Electric Street Railway company, was something new. The power was to come from a trolley line overhead.

Mansfielders crowded along Main street from the old power house, which was between Sixth and the Erie tracks, up to the square. And when the little box-

TRAGEDY HITS FAMILY AGAIN

Child Drowns on Picnic Trip After Brother Killed.

YOUNGSTOWN —(AP)— Mr. and Mrs. Earl Willock, whose oldest child, Earl, jr., was killed on his bicycle a week ago Wednesday, took their four surviving children, all girls, to Lake Milton last night in the hope that a picnic might help to cheer up the children.

A swim was suggested. Eight-year-old Donna, youngest of the family, darted ahead toward the lake. She stepped off into deep water, screamed, and disappeared. Her body was recovered five minutes later, but artificial respiration proved futile

Sen. Burke Plans Conscription Amendment Boosting Age to 44.

BULLETIN

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(NS)—The odds are 100 to 1 against the National Guard ever being sent outside the continental limits or territorial possessions of the United States, President Roosevelt declared today, commenting on the narrow margin by which the senate yesterday defeated an amendment to the guard mobilization bill which would have restricted guard movements within those limits.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Overwhelming senate passage of the bill authorizing the president to muster the National Guard and army reserves emboldened conscription advocates today to propose a broader registration program under the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory service measure.

Just before the senate began momentous debate on the conscription issue, Senator Burke (D-Neb.) disclosed that he had drafted an amendment calling for registration of all men from 21 through 44. The bill approved by the military committee fixed the ages at 21 to 30, inclusive.

Burke said the senate's 71 to 7 vote yesterday in favor of legislation which could put the guard and reserves into active service was encouraging to those who want to increase the number of men subject to possible conscription.

His proposed change, he explained, would make 24,000,000 men subject to registration, instead of the 12,000,000 contemplated in the committee-approved measure. In either case only those

TALK POLITICS

Richland G. O. P. Heads To Attend Columbus Session.

Ralph Hardy, executive chairman, and Ralph Carroll, central committee chairman of the Richland county Republican organization said today they will go to Columbus Saturday night to discuss campaign plans at a meeting with other G. O. P. central and executive committeemen and the state campaign committee.

The chairmen are scheduled to meet at the Columbus Athletic club to talk over the fall campaign with Don Power, representing Gov. John W. Bricker; Earl Hart, Nolan Boggs, and Hugh Huntington, comprising the state campaign committee.

Ed. D. Schorr, state Republican chairman, is at his summer home in Michigan and is not expected to attend the session which was called by Gov. Bricker. Candidates for state offices were invited.

Political forecasters predicted today that Power, executive secretary to the governor, will manage the campaign for Gov. Bricker and Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, G. O. P. nominee for U. S. senator.

British Power Threatened by Fascist Drive

Mussolini Holds Attention of British In Mediterranean Until Germany Hurls Blitzkrieg Invasion At Island Kingdom.

(By International News Service)

While German bombing squadrons resumed their pin-pricking attacks of the British Isles today, Italy launched her Fascist forces in a blow at Berbera in which she hoped to gain control of British Somaliland and thus threaten British domination of the Gulf of Aden.

Fascist spokesmen made it plain that Italy's role is to occupy the attention of the British in the Mediterranean and Africa while Hitler launches his blitzkrieg on the British Isles.

Virginio Gayda, frequent spokesman for Premier Mussolini, asserted that the Fascist African offensive is aimed at wresting the Suez canal from the British grip and thus sever her east-west life line.

Admiral Bernotti, writing in a Rome newspaper, declared that the stage is set for the German invasion of Britain, indicating that the blow might fall at any moment.

Meanwhile, Italy counted 41 dead and 45 others critically injured as the result of explosions in two large ammunition factories at Piacenza and Lecco yesterday and today. A total of 519 was injured in the Piacenza blast.

Today's raids on the British Isles were less intense than yesterday's mammoth air and sea battles in the English channel area in which both Germany and Britain claimed victories.

Sixty out of 400 attacking German planes were brought down, the British said. But Berlin admitted losing only 10 and asserted that 49 Royal Air Force planes, including 33 Spitfires, were destroyed while 28 ships of various categories were sunk or damaged in the daylong battle.

German attacks upon Liverpool, Bristol and ports and air bases along the south coast of England were announced. An air ministry announcement said that at least two German planes were brought down by British guns in new engagements today.

In Cairo, the R. A. F. announced destruction of 15 Italian fighting planes in a major battle over Libya, while the situation in Somaliland, where the Italians are driving toward the sea, was described as "fairly static." The Italian version of the air battle said that five British and two Italian planes were lost.

Meanwhile, the air defenses of London were placed on the alert following a mysterious three-hour fire in the dock area which destroyed a huge warehouse.

Searchlights swept the pre-dawn skies and British fighting planes droned overhead to thwart any German air assault on the British capital.

Flames from a blaze severe enough to level a warehouse could be seen by raiding pilots for many miles in the darkness, and could well serve as a beacon to guide bombers to the heart of the great London dock center.

Resuming their raids after yesterday's massive air engagement, in which 60 German planes are said to have been shot down and still more are believed to have been destroyed, Nazi aircraft winged over various areas of Britain during the night and this morning, bombing regions near the Straits of Dover, the Bristol channel and northwest England.

Five bombs also were dropped on the residential quarter of a midland town, demolishing one house and damaging others.

An official British announcement said casualties were few but admitted some were fatal.

As a result of the fighting yesterday, in which the British said they lost only 16 planes, London military observers were convinced that Germany now is prepared for major aerial warfare for control of the skies above the English channel.

But London authorities said the British air force regarded the results of this first great test of strength as satisfactory. They

REPRIMAND: Cudahy Ordered Home to Give Explanation

WASHINGTON — (AP) — John Cudahy, American ambassador to Belgium, was reprimanded publicly by the state department today for his press interview in London on Belgian food conditions and other aspects of the German occupation of that country.

Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, reading a formal statement at his press conference, said that Cudahy, by direction of President Roosevelt had been requested to return to the United States immediately for consultation.

Cudahy, the statement said, had given the interview "in violation of standing instructions of the department of state and certain of the views expressed by the ambassador are not to be construed as representing the views of the government."

The incident, the statement continued, "illustrates once again the importance which must be attributed by American representatives abroad to the department's instructions to refrain at this critical time from making public statements other than those made in accordance with instructions of the department of state."

WITHDRAWN: British Take All Troops From Shanghai

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—The war office announced today that "British troops at present stationed in Shanghai and in north China are being withdrawn for service elsewhere."

Authoritative sources said the United States government had been kept informed of Britain's intentions to withdraw the troops and Japan also had been notified

These sources said the total number of troops affected was about 1,500, and that protection of British interests would be left to the international police force commanded by the municipal council which governs the Shanghai international settlement

No replacements for the British troops was planned it was reported

While the destination of the men was not given it was considered unlikely they would be taken from the Far East (Shanghai reports suggested Hongkong or Singapore as the destination.)

The troops in Shanghai consist of the 2nd battalion of the East Surrey regiment the 1st battalion of the Seaforth Highlanders and several platoons left behind when British soldiers were removed from north China. One company also is stationed at Tientsin.

(A spokesman for the Japanese embassy at Shanghai said the Japanese were "very pleased" to hear of the British decision. He re-

U. S. Boosts Warplane Production to 10,800 Annually

KNUDSEN SAYS 18,000 MARK SET BY JAN. 1

Volume to Increase Steadily After That, Commission Chief Reports.

WASHINGTON—America's expanding aircraft factories are reported by the defense commission to be turning out warplanes at the rate of 10,800 annually.

By next January the 18,000-a-year mark will be passed, William S. Knudsen, the commission's production chief, said last night in a radio broadcast in which he and the other commissioners described their work during the last 10 weeks.

"Present production is approximately 900 planes per month," said Knudsen.

"By Jan. 1 the number will have risen to 1,500 planes and the volume will increase steadily thereafter. You might also be interested in knowing that in January 56,800 persons were employed in aircraft factories. Today the number is nearer 75,000.

The commission announced that $1,792,000,000 in army and navy contracts—including $7,000,000 for combat planes—had been let in the last two months.

Asked when deliveries could be expected on combat materials, Knudsen replied:

"I expect that the tooling up process will more or less take up the balance of this fall, but by January substantial deliveries of most of the material should commence and by spring 1941 production should be going at a good rate."

Sidney Hillman, labor member of the commission, said that about 80,000 persons were taking training for jobs in defense industries, and advised prospective trainees to apply to their nearest state employment office.

The shipbuilding industry, he said, now is employing almost 40,000 more persons than at the 10-year peak in 1937, the aircraft industry 50,000 more and the machine tool and engine industries 18,000 more.

Hillman approved yesterday a request of Secretary Knox to permit 160,000 mechanics and laborers in the navy's shipyards and shore stations to work more than 40 hours a week to speed construction of the two-ocean fleet. Overtime will be paid at the rate of time and a half.

Duke Tees Off In Bit of Golf While Visiting Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda —(INS)— The Duke of Windsor, stopping over briefly in Bermuda before proceeding to his post as governor of the Bahamas, planned a game of golf today after granting a scheduled interview to the press.

Capt. George Wood, his equerry, said the former British monarch and his American-born duchess also will go on a shopping expedition in Hamilton.

Tonight the duke and duchess will attend a dinner party and tomorrow Governor Sir Denis Bernhard will give a cocktail party in their honor at government house.

Capt. Wood said the couple probably will not visit the United States in the near future, especially in view of the forthcoming American elections.

At the official reception yesterday Mrs. Hastings Brooke, sister of Sir Denis and his official hostess, gave a full curtsy to the duke but none to the duchess who lacks the rank of royal highness.

Five vacationing Mansfield school officials and secretaries have waged a "big fish" contest by mail, and with the entries all in now, the others concede victory to John H. Eisaman, clerk of the board of education. Eisaman wrote home to tell the other contestants he "figured prominently" in the catching of 34 nice bass recently at Findley Lake, Indiana. Even if he didn't produce any evidence, he wrote the most convincing postcard, the others admitted. The other entries were Supt. W. L. Miller; H. W. Arlin, president of the school board, Principal H. J. Dotson of John Simpson junior high school, and Miss Mary Holmes, Eisaman's secretary.

North Lake Park association officials are again faced with the task of repairing the park's sun dial, recently damaged by vandals. According to A. R. Herring of the association, hoodlums recently broke the dial plate. They knocked two large pieces from the boulder on which it is mounted. This marks the fourth time in the past few years that the dial plate has been broken, according to Herring.

RITES SUNDAY FOR MRS. MANN

Galion Resident, Mother of Mansfield Woman, Was Ill Four Months.

GALION—Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy A. Mann, widow of Florin U. Mann, will be held at 1:30 p. m. Sunday at the residence in Galion and at 3 p. m. in the Meredith funeral home, Fredericktown. Rev. Sterling Wees, pastor of the Church of Christ, Galion, will officiate. Burial will be in the North Fork cemetery near Fredericktown.

Mrs. Mann died Thursday afternoon at her home where she had been confined to her bed since April 21.

She was one of seven children of Dr. M. L. Singrey and Charlotte Bonar Singrey, and was born in Morrow county. She attended school in Bellville, and taught several terms in the public schools of Knox county. She was also a music teacher.

Her marriage to Mr. Mann took place May 17, 1888.

Since 1931 she has lived in Galion with her daughter, Gertrude E. Mann, Galion high school teacher.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. M. V. Levering of Mansfield; Mrs. Lester Hart of Fredericktown, and Gertrude at home.

She was a life-long member of the Church of Christ at Waterford, but since she had lived in Galion she was affiliated with the Ladies' Guild and the Friendly Folk class of the First Presbyterian church, and was a member of the Pythian Sisters lodge.

SHELBY WOMAN DIES AT HOME

Eight-Month Illness Fatal to Mary A. Roth, Native of Pennsylvania.

SHELBY — Mrs. Mary Ann Roth, 83, a native of Pennsylvania, died last night at her home here after an illness of eight months.

Born Sept. 22, 1857 in Lancaster county, Pa., Mrs. Roth came to Shelby in 1889. Surviving are two sons, Jerry and Charles both of Shelby; four daughters, Mrs. George Payne and Mrs. Lenza Post of Shelby, Mrs. J. C. Ballendine of East Lansing, Mich. and Mrs. Ned Reed of Crestline, three brothers, John, Isaac and Adam Urlich all of Lebanon county, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Savilla Mann, 26 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Barkdull funeral home with Rev. R. T. Crowe of the Christian church officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

RITES TOMORROW

ASHLAND—Burial services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Dickey cemetery, east of here, for Reuben Dale Roby, one-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Roby, who died this morning at Samaritan hospital. Rev. Charles Helm will officiate. Surviving besides the parents are two sisters.

GUARDSMAN ROAMS STREETS OF COLUMBUS VERY SCANTILY CLAD

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Marion R. Warrington, 30, a national guardsman from Newark, found it a bit chilly for mid-summer early today.

Because Warrington was forced to roam the streets of Columbus at 1 a. m., clad in nothing more than his shorts, undershirt and one sock.

He was in Columbus preparing to leave for the second army maneuvers at Sparta, Wis., with other Ohio national guardsmen. He got off a street car in suburban Bexley last night, he told deputy sheriffs, and while he was standing on a corner, five Negroes forced him into their automobile and drove to the American addition.

They robbed him of $20 in money and his $3 pipe and forced him to undress. He wandered around until he found a house where he could telephone.

Deputy Sheriffs Charles Stimpfle and Ed Carroll furnished Warrington a blanket, took him to the Grenwood avenue armory where fellow guardsmen promised to help him out.

RECEIPTS DROP

Sales Tax Revenue in County Down $215 for Period.

Richland county's sales tax receipts for the final week of July dropped $215 below collections for the corresponding week last year, but 38 other counties in the state also showed declines, the state treasurer's report showed today.

Receipts for the last week of the month amounted to $8,574 as compared to $8,789 for the same week in July, 1939.

County collections for the year, however, mounted to $326,859, a gain of $46,418 over the first seven months of last year. Total increases in the state so far this year is $2,500,000 over last year's figures.

DIES, AGED 68

J. W. Gray Succumbs at Home After Long Illness.

James Wilbur Gray, 68, of West Park drive, died early today at his home following a lingering illness. He was born in Rockford, Ill., June 24, 1872 and had been a resident of Mansfield 18 years.

Surviving are his wife, Harriett Ford Gray; a daughter, Charlotte at home, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Jarvey of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. S. Gracie of Lakeland, Fla. Gray was a member of Mansfield Lodge No. 35, F. and A. M.

The body was removed to the Finefrock funeral home where services will be held Monday. Further arrangements have not been completed.

ATHENS LEGION POST DEMANDS RADICAL SWEEP

Battle of Editorials Waged By Student and Town Newspapers.

(By Associated Press)

ATHENS — Charges that Communistic forces were running rampant on the campus of Ohio university has precipitated an American Legion post demand that school officials oust "democracy haters."

Editorial opposition of a student paper, the Ohio University Post, to the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill caused the Daily Athens Messenger to assert Wednesday that "the Communistic forces allowed by the administration to run rampant on the campus of Ohio University are at it again."

The K. T. Crossen Legion post yesterday wrote Dr. Herman G. James, university president, demanded a ban on un-American elements and said: "If Ohio university is to continue as a haven for young radicals, reds, trouble-makers and democracy haters, then that fact should be made known by you x x x." The university is a state supported school. Dr. James is vacationing in Alaska.

Robert L. Wertman of Lakewood, Post editor, today declined a statement at this time on the Messenger's charge that a "radical element" had gained control of the publication.

"Chief instigator and promoter of the (war) hysteria is Franklin D. Roosevelt," said the Post editorial. "Failing to solve our home problems he has pointed toward Europe and shouted loudly about its chaos to distract us from our own messy house. x x x This bill is a totalitarian proposal for militaristic regimentation of our youth. x x x It should be killed."

POTION FATAL

Loudonville Resident Dies In Second Suicide Try.

LOUDONVILLE — A second suicide attempt had proved fatal today for Mrs. Matilda Stitzline, 68, who died at 1:30 a. m. in Mansfield General hospital where she was taken Wednesday after members of her family reported she had swallowed a quantity of household antiseptic. She had recently recovered from a blood transfusion administered after she was found at the home of a relative with her wrists slashed.

The physician's report of her death listed suicide as the cause, according to Coroner Hugh C. Winbigler's office, but the case was not placed in the coroner's records since death occurred more than 24 hours after Mrs. Stitzline was reported to have taken the liquid.

Surviving are three step children, Mrs. Ray Gardner, Mrs. Elmer Young, and Elmer Stitzline, all of Loudonville; six brothers, George, William and Frank of Loudonville, Henry of Cleveland, and Rev. S. C. Long of Waldo; and one sister, Mrs. Charles Bowman, Loudonville.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

FOUND DEAD AT SULLIVAN

Bullet Wound Fatal To Restaurant Operator.

SULLIVAN — William Pauley, 52, restaurant operator here, was found dead last night in a barn near his home, victim of a self inflicted bullet wound.

Missing since yesterday morning, his body was found at 9:30 p. m. by Oliver Lowe, a truck driver, who had joined in a search for him. Dr. George M. Emery, Ashland county coroner, gave a verdict of suicide by shooting and said Pauley had shot himself about 3:30 p. m. The bullet entered his head.

Pauley is married and the father of one child. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Customers Cry at Opening of New Store.

ALTON, Ill. —(AP)— Customers inspecting a new store thought the place was swell, but they cried about the reception.

As proud employes were showing off the modern quarters, a tear gas bomb, installed to drive away robbers, accidentally exploded, emptying the building.

TIPPED FOR POST

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Federal District Judge John D. Martin of Memphis is the nominee-apparent for the sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals, informed sources said today. The appeals court area embraces Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

You Meet Such Interesting People.
(And It's the Little Things You Remember.)

Seeing Norma Shearer around town reminds me that although people are always using the expression "she looks as though she stepped right out of a bandbox" Norma is the only lass I've ever seen who actually looks that way, morning, cocktail time and night. . . . Broadway Rose, on the other hand looks as though she stepped right out of a rubber-band box.

Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom likes to spar a little with the head-waiter when he comes into a night club . . . Clyde Tolson, the G-man, looks like a twin brother to Sherman Billingsley, the Stork club's emperor . . . Victor Moore likes to ride in subways and buses. You can see him boarding an Eighth avenue bus uptown almost every night after he leaves the stage door.

Jessica Dragonette writes beautiful poetry, but she's shy about giving it an audience. Only her closest friends are allowed to read the verses.

Lawrence Olivier and Vivien Leigh look like a story-book hero and heroine even when they're relaxed over scrambled eggs in a night club. They fall into poses that would make Goldwyn or Louis B. Mayer rush right out for a blank contract.

Jack Pearl remains the most superstitious fellow on Broadway, and his pet superstition is the funniest the boys around Lindy's have ever known. If you touch Jack's ear he just must touch yours in return, even if he has to catch the next plane to Europe to do it.

And the Broadway lads have victimized him unmercifully because of this idiosyncrasy. They wait until he is fully lathered in a barber's chair—then they touch his ear and run out of the shop. Lather and all, Jack follows until he catches the prankster and touches his ear.

Not long ago a pal asked Pearl to go to a ball game, and the comedian said no, thanks, he didn't feel like it. So the friend touched his ear, jumped into a taxi and headed for the Polo Grounds. Pearl followed in the next cab—and the friend didn't let him touch his ear until they were inside the ball park.

Sally Rand and Gypsy Rose Lee are two girls who talk just like a page of Clare Boothe dialogue . . . I don't know how many years it's been since Broadway Sam, the ticket agent, last saw a live horse, but he always wears a cowboy shirt and sombrero and an expression of "Wanna make something of it?"

Liz Whitney buys, and actually wears, $1.98 summer dresses—and she loves to tell her friends how much she paid for them . . .

Babe Ruth smokes big black cigars almost the size of the baseball bats he used to wield, and he still has a soft spot in his heart for those "plus fours" that were so smart in 1926.

Lucy Monroe has six radios in her apartment, and usually they're all playing, and all playing a different station . . . Rudy Vallee seems to be the current leader in the who-visits-the-most-night - clubs - with - the - greatest - variety - of - pretty - girls sweepstakes. Louis Shurr, the 10-percenter, used to be strongest contender for those honors until he left for Hollywood.

Jascha Heifetz loves to plan new houses and estates for his wife and himself, but after the work has started he loses interest. So he's got several unfinished homes and apartments just lying around.

Fred MacMurray is a gadgeteer. He even has a windshield wiper on his bathroom mirror. When he wants to shave after showering the wiper whisks off the steam.

Gertrude Niessen, the scorch singer, wears fur wraps even on the hotest nights, but goes without hast even on sub-zero days . . . Bandleader Harry James never misses a circus. It's a form of nostalgia with him. His mother was a tight-rope walker in the Mighty Haag Circus in Texas, and his father was the circus bandmaster.

Gertrude Atherton, the novelist, still gets impatient waiting for elevators, and like as not will trek up three or four flights of stairs rather than wait—and she's 83!

Gloria Swanson, Claire Windsor and Esther Ralston look as pretty today as they did in the years when they were Hollywood's super-super glamor girls. . . . Harry Richman laughs at superstitions, and has been known even to whistle in his dressing room, but since heavyweight champ Joe Louis gave him a copper good luck piece he's never been without it.

Bing Crosby would rather miss a horse race than be photographed without his hat in an informal moment—meaning when he's not wearing his toupee . . . Danny Kaye always reads the last chapter of a book first; then when he knows how the story ends he goes back to the start.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce always has a favorite table in each of the restaurants and night clubs she goes to. Some of them hold one for her every night, and if she's not there by a certain hour the hoi polloi gets it . . . Beth Leary has the same gag at the Colony.

Chatter Corner

Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Fonkalsrud off on a vacation trip to Billings, Mont., to meet their daughter Marjorie, whom they will bring home at the end of her visit there . . . Merle and Mrs. Pecht leaving for a Canadian fishing trip, to be gone about 10 days. . . . John Selby being given the usual "new-lywed" kidding by office associates.

Democrat John O'Donnell and Democratess Louise (Mickey) Rose exchanging greetings—kissing in the middle of a Park avenue west intersection.

County Commissioner Ray Hout still receiving congratulations on being the sponsor of the car Jack Thompson drove to victory in the Soap Box Derby. . . . Motorcycle Officer Howard Schuel losing his fire marker at the corner of Fourth and Main but not knowing it until someone told him about it.

Rev. O. S. Goerner, assistant pastor at First Lutheran church back in town after a two-week vacation at his home in Iowa . . . Ivan Brune, teacher at John Simpson, nursing a sprained finger and injured knee received during softball games this week.

Councilman George Kyle wearing a white panama and the customary cigar as he chats with a constituent at the curb. . . . Pauline Bebout frowning into the sun as she rounds the Parkway corner. . . . Coatless Walter Willis strolling into the Smokehouse with a pencil clipped to his shirt front.

Mayor William J. Locke and his wife, their rods and reels packed in their car headed for Camp Beaverland, Ontario, Canada for a week's stay. . . . James Brownscombe picking his teeth while watching progress of the Fourth street improvement.

Tinkey Lumbers Seek Tilt With Undefeated Hermans

The Tinkey Lumber company softball combine today issued a challenge for a contest with the undefeated Sons of Herman club. Manager Harold Hedges of the Lumbers said the contest could be played on Sunday on a date satisfactory to both teams. The Lumber company will also furnish the umpires if it is acceptable with the Hermans. Hedges may be reached at the Tinkey Lumber office.

SPRINGFIELD TEAM TO ENTER SEMI-PRO TOURNEY

WICHITA, Kas. — (AP) — The Crowell-Colliers team of Springfield, O., is one of 15 teams certified for the 1940 national semi-pro baseball tournament which gets underway a week from tonight.

Seventeen more berths go to winners of state and regional meets not yet completed.

Famous Fireballer Has Won 19 Games; Boston Trips Yankees Again, 6-5.

By JUDSON BAILEY, Associated Press Sports Writer.

IT'S AS EVIDENT as the headlines in your newspaper today that Bobby Feller can't pitch the Cleveland Indians into the American league championship singlehanded—or even with two hands.

The famous fireballer stands out as the best hurler in baseball, with 19 victories already in the bag, but the Indians are in second place just the same and unless they can figure out something else, they may stay there.

Cleveland had a chance to take over the lead yesterday. The Detroit Tigers were idle and the Tribe was down for a doubleheader with the seventh-place St. Louis Browns.

Feller took care of winning the first game, 7-1, pitching shutout ball for five innings until his teammates got him a working margin. Then came the nightcap and even with Johnny Humphries pitching three-hit ball the Tribe couldn't capture the crucial game. The score was 2-1.

The Boston Red Sox reinforced their third place position by whipping the New York Yankees again 6-5. Jimmy Foxx hit his 26th homer and Dom DiMaggio made four hits in five trips.

The Philadelphia Athletics beat the Washington Senators 6-4 in 10 innings. Frank Hayes delivered a pinch double to tie the score in the ninth and in the tenth a single and two more doubles provided the winning margin.

An even more breathtaking spectacle was the Brooklyn Dodgers' 6-3 triumph over the New York Giants on Dolph Camilli's 12th home run in the 12th inning. Two were out and two were on at the time.

Bucky Walters checked the skid of the Cincinnati Reds by scattering nine hits so effectively that he shutout the Chicago Cubs after the first inning and won 3-1.

In the only other National league game the Boston Bees prodded the Phillies into their ninth consecutive defeat, 6-2.

Braves Defeat Fremont

Mel Harder In Late Season Form In Win

Starts Against St. Louis Tonight; Indians Divide Games.

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Four pitchers late in arriving at top form are raising new fears of the Cleveland Indians among other pennant contenders.

During the first part of the season the Tribe's rivals expected trouble only from a couple of hurlers named Al Milnar and Smith—and Bob Feller, who hung up his 19th victory yesterday as Cleveland won the first game of a double header with St. Louis 7 to 1.

But in the past two weeks Cleveland's pitching department has become the strongest in the league with the improvement shown by Mel Harder, Johnny Allen, Harry Eisenstat and Johnny Humphries.

Humphries sparkled even in defeat as he held the Browns to three hits in yesterday's nightcap, which St. Louis won 2 to 1.

Harder, who limited Chicago to five hits in his first full game of the season last Monday starts for Cleveland tonight in the third of the six-game series with St. Louis.

Johnny Whitehead will work for the Browns.

A couple of errors by his mates lost Humphries his brilliantly pitched game.

A misplay by Jeff Heath let in St. Louis' first run and Russ Peters' fumble in the sixth paved the way for the winning tally scored without a hit. Elden Auker, the winning pitcher, scattered eight Indian hits.

Feller coasted to an easy victory after his mates staked him to a 6 to 0 lead by pounding Vernon Kennedy and Howard Mills for 10 hits in the first six frames. Ken Keltner got his Snider and Arnold Star as Mansfield Registers Pair of Victories.

THE spectacular hurling of Bob Snider, a new recruit, and veteran Bob Arnold enabled the Mansfield Braves to register a double Ohio State league victory over Fremont before a small crowd under the floodlights at the Fairground last night.

Mansfield marked up an easy triumph in the opener, but had to stage a rally to save the nightcap. The Braves won 11 to 3 and 4 to 3.

With these wins safely tucked away, the Braves invade Tiffin tonight and return to the Fair park to meet the Mudhens at 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Manager Dewey Stover was happy today following the double triumph. He was particularly impressed by the fine pitching of Snider, who joined the Braves recently.

Stover started Tony Angaran against Fremont and he walked in a run on four successive bases on balls. Snider rushed in to relieve him and retired the side on strikes.

Mansfield came back with five markers in its half of the first and those runs proved to be enough for Snider held Fremont to four hits the rest of the way in the seven-inning opener.

Walt Missler, who is playing dependable ball as a substitute for Dick Morse at third base, handled the big bat at the plate in the first tilt. He pounded out a home run and a triple. Gene Woodling added a double and two singles to the attack.

Arnold, who gave the Green Sox nine hits, was in hot water several times, but his teammates came through in fine fashion to give him his 13th win of the season against five defeats.

The second game which lasted eight innings was a thriller. Fremont grabbed a 3 to 2 lead in the seventh, but Mansfield knotted the score at 3-all in the same frame.

Then Missler set the stage for the winning score in the eighth.

Tinkeys, Cabs And Lumbers Win Contests

Winebrenner Hurls 4-Hitter, McKinley 3-Hitter.

Held to four hits by "Stub" Winebrenner, ace Tinkey hurler, the Wescos suffered a stinging 12 to 1 defeat yesterday in a Y. M. C. A. Independent league tussle at Liberty park at the hands of the Tinkey Lumbers.

Of the 28 batters who faced Winebrenner, 12 struck out. Deshner was on the mound for the Wescos, allowing the Tinkeys 14 hits.

In another league game last night, the Safety Cabs walloped the All-State Freights 12 to 6. Hallibrin of the Cabbies smashed out the only home run of the game. Carver was on the mound for the Safety Cabs, while Wallace toed the rubber for the Freightmen.

The Alta Lumbers also defeated the Tavernettes 6 to 1, with McKinley holding the Tavernettes to three hits. Kinney of the Altas got a single, a triple and a homer to lead the hitters. No box score was turned in.

Tourney Players, Second Round Ends Tonight!

Thornton Moore, president of the Mansfield tennis association, today cautioned players in the City-wide Tennis tournament, sponsored by the Yuncker Sports, that this is the last day in which matches in the second round can be played. If they are not played by tonight, matches are subject to default. All scores must be turned in to The News-Journal or Yuncker Brothers store so that they may be tallied. Winners of the matches should turn in the score.

KAPLANOFF JOINS CAMP OF PRO GRIDIRON CLUB

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus will have a representative again in professional football in the person of Carl Kaplanoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kaplanoff, who left Thursday for the training camp of the Brooklyn Dodger team at Dun school, Princeton N. J.

Bucyrus has not been represented in professional football since the retirement of Bob Monnett, former Michigan State star, who played a number of seasons with the Green Bay Packers. He retired a year ago to accept a post on with the state highway department.

Birds Count On Brecheen

Columbus Hurler to Pitch Crucial Game Tonight.

(By Associated Press)

The Columbus Red Birds, hard on the heels of Minneapolis in the American Association race, tonight counted on their ace hurler, Harry Brecheen, to further close the gap between them and second place.

Brecheen, who has won 12 games and lost four, will attempt to give the Birds their second in a row over Louisville.

Columbus won the opener last night, 5 to 4, and advanced within two and a half games of Minneapolis, which was rained out at Kansas City.

Indianapolis, trying to get out of the cellar, climbed within a half game of Toledo by defeating the Mud Hens 7 to 4. In the other game St. Paul knocked off Milwaukee, 5 to 2.

Prussoff Upsets Frankie Parker

RYE, N. Y.—(AP)—Henry Prussoff was an easy guy to talk to yesterday, especially if you wanted to talk about Bitsy Grant.

Five minutes after reporters cornered him for the low down on his 6-4, 6-3 upset of Frankie Parker in the quarter-final round of the Eastern Grass Court championships, the telephone rang. It was Grant.

Bitsy wanted to tell Prusoff that he had just licked Joe Hunt, the midshipman, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2. Prusoff bowled his congratulations into the mouthpiece, turned around and said, "Bitsy's sure a great little fighter. He's got a fighting heart from way back."

Heroes and Goats

(By The National News Service)

HITS—Indians, three-run homer and single drove in four runs as they defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-4, in the first game of the series at the Indians' stadium. The White Sox, on the Browns' field, exploded in the fifth inning with the bases loaded and got the last two runs of the game to defeat the Browns.

HEROES—Jeff Heath, Cleveland Indians' outfielder, who hit a home run with the bases loaded in the first inning to help defeat the St. Louis Browns, 7-1.

Bucky Walters, Cincinnati Reds' pitcher, who pitched a three-hit game to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 3-1.

Dolph Camilli, Brooklyn Dodgers' first baseman, who hit a home run in the 12th inning to defeat the New York Giants, 6-3.

GOAT—Johnny Humphries, St. Louis Browns' pitcher, who lost the first game of a double-header to the Cleveland Indians, 7-1, although he pitched a brilliant game.

COLUMBUS TRIUMPHS

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Columbus Red Birds defeated Louisville 5 to 4 in the first game of a double header yesterday. Columbus won the second game 6 to 3.

SARKKINEN TO WED

PORTSMOUTH—(AP)—A marriage license was obtained yesterday by Esco Sarkkinen, 22, of Fairport Harbor, O., Ohio State university's ace football end last fall, and Freda Jane Burkhardt, 20, of Portsmouth. Sarkkinen graduated in June as a physical education and Fairport Harbor high school athletic director.

Mansfielder Collects Ace At Willoughby

Using a set of borrowed clubs, C. V. Graf, 411 Sherman place, realized a life-time dream yesterday when he chalked up a hole-in-one at Kirtland Country club, Willoughby, Ohio.

Playing with three business associates of Cleveland, Graf drove off the 11th tee across a span of water and on to the green, where the ball rolled neatly into the cup. He used a number four wood club for the shot.

The 11th hole is a par three and is 176 yards long. The span of water which comes between the tee and the green makes the 11th hole an unusually hazardous one, Graf said.

Graf played yesterday's round with John Virden, W. G. Sawyer, and Paul J. Pfeifer, all officials of the John Virden company of Cleveland. His score for the tough 18 holes was 87.

Thompson Will Face Cardinals

Reds Hope to Break Slump Against St. Louis.

CINCINNATI — (AP) — If the Reds can just keep that up, the victory famine is over and the Brooklyn Dodgers are somebody you don't have to worry about.

The next chance to prove that the National league leaders have forgotten their troubles and grief and are playing ball again comes tonight in an engagement with the St. Louis Cardinals. Gene Thompson, hors de combat since the battle of Brooklyn, and Fiddler Bill McGee are the pitchers.

Yesterday's 3-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs, giving Bucky Walters his 16th win of the year, was the first real game of ball the Reds had played since hitting Philadelphia in their recent Eastern tour.

Ernie Lombardi, the big catcher, provided a good measure of the day's excitement by driving in one run with a single, picking one errant Cub off second, and turning one of Bucky's three strikeouts into a double play.

The Cubs scored in the first inning when Stan Hack walked, went to second on an infield play, and scored on Jimmy Gleeson's single.

The Reds tied it up on walks to Lonnie Frey and Frank McCormick and Lombardi's single, and scored the winning run in the fifth when Werber singled, Frey walked, and Goodman singled. A walk, a hit batsman, and singles by Frey and Morrie Arnovich produced the final run in the eighth.

PICNIC SET TODAY

BUCYRUS—A basket picnic at noon followed by a program of trapshooting, bait and fly casting and other entertainment will bring several hundred members of the Crawford county Conservation league and their families to Sugar Grove lake Sunday for their annual outing.

REGATTA DATE SET

VERMILION—(AP)—The annual South Shore regatta will be held here Aug. 16-18, with yachtsmen from Cleveland, Marion Harbor, Toledo, Sandusky and Vermilion participating.

By GEORGE SATTLER

CHALKING up a 4 to 1 victory over the Junior Association of Commerce, the Tucker Furnitures galloped into first place in The News-Journal Class "B" league yesterday.

Of the four matches played between the Commercemen and the Tuckers at Possum Run, the Tuckers won three and dropped one as their rivals for the loop lead, the City News, came out on the short end of a 4 to 1 tally in a match with the Bissmans.

Now holding the top position by a lonely marker, the Tuckers have but two weeks of match-play left in the league to either lengthen their lead or drop back into the lower brackets of the standings.

Kelley paced the Tucker attack by clicking off a 38 for the nine, defeating McCullough of the J. A. C.'s, who carded a 43. Also chalking up 38's, the lowest scores turned in, were Sparks of the Elks club and Brandt of the Bissmans.

The City News' scorching 4 to 1 licking came as a result of the sparkling low scores turned in by the Bissmans. Brandt paced the Bissmans with a 38, defeating Fay of the City News, while Spurgeon netted a 39 to gain a decision over Lay. Pete Schemine, carding a 43, took over Walters for the third Bissman victory.

The Central Fruit foursome, scoring a 1 to 1 victory over the Tinkey Lumbers, edged into a tie with the City News for the second spot, only one point behind the league-leaders.

In the other match in the "B" loop, the Elks club handed The News-Journal club a 4 to 1 defeat with Sparks of the Elks low with a 38.

Dutch Clark Starts Work With Ram Squad

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Dutch Clark, the football maestro who directed his Cleveland Rams into the thick of the National league race last season, starts a three-year encore next Wednesday.

On that day the former Colorado All-American, who signed the three-year coaching contract last winter, will start work with a squad of more than 40. He will have just three weeks of summer training to whip the team into shape for the Sept. 4 opener here against the mid-west college All-Stars.

Dutch expects his club to show a lot of improvement, especially with better prospects for good substitutes

"We should finish well up in the standings," he said today, "although Green Bay and the Chicago Bears looks like the class of the division.

"Our backfield should be better with more replacements and I am hoping some of the new tackles will give us the added strength we need there.

"We have one good center in Red Conkright, but have the problem of developing a good understudy for him."

Three of the veterans remain unsigned, but Clark says they will be on the job Wednesday. Those outside the fold are Parker Hall, the all-league halfback who topped the loop in passing; Gaylon Smith, reserve fullback and Chet Adams former Ohio University tackle.

Seven of the colleagians drafted by the Rams will play in the All-Star game at Chicago and thus miss opening practice sessions here They are Lou Zontini, Notre Dame halfback, John Haman, Northwestern center, Ken Heineman, Texas Mines halfback; Bill Anahu, Santa Clara end; Mike Kinek, Michigan State end; Ollie Cordill, Rice halfback, and Jack Nix, Mississippi State halfback.

Six of the returning veterans are ball-carriers These include Hall, Smith, Marty Slovak, Johnny Drake, Mike Rodak and Vic Spadaccini Ends Maurice Patt, Paul McDonough, Johnny Wilson and Jim Benton will be back, as will tackles Adams, Elwyn Dunstan and Ralph Niehaus.

Barney McGarry, Phil Ragazzo and Ted Livingston comprise an experienced trio of guards. Nate Schenker, Riley Matheson and Alex Atty, three linemen who spent part of last season with the club, will try again.

The Rams face an 11-game schedule, including home-and-home games with the Bears, Chicago Cardinals, Green Bay and Detroit and single clashes with Philadelphia, New York and Brooklyn.

Angles From Anglers

By ROBERT OLDS

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Angles for anglers: This is to prepare you for the shock you'll get if you ever snag a garfish—a long, snakey monster with a big bill full of sharp teeth and scales heavy as armour plate, who hisses savagely when you try to land him.

Looking something like a miniature swordfish, the horrible Mr. Gar is enough to jolt almost any fisherman. He isn't caught often despite the fact that he thrives by the thousands in Ohio's large sluggish streams and some reservoirs.

Mr Gar's objectionable habit of killing the game fish in the streams has made him highly unpopular with anglers in general and, at present the state conservation division in particular.

Ed L. Wickliff, one of the division's fish scientists, says that he has just recently received more reports from field men of large concentrations of garfish than in many years.

The southern part of the state from Hamilton county, the Little Miami river, Scioto river drainage basin to the Muskingum river appears to be the most heavily infested area, Wickliff said. But along the Lake Erie shore, especially in the western end and in Sandusky and Maumee bays, there are thousands of gars.

Most recent gar reports have come from Big Walnut and Deer creeks south of Columbus, the Portage lakes near Akron, the Little Miami and in the Muskingum river just above Marietta.

Wickliff said fish management men recently seined out several hundred gars near Marietta and that gar nets have been sent to Hamilton county where the pests have been bad for years Yesterday he made a field trip to the Big Walnut to see just how large the numbers of gar-fish were there

Wickliff, assistant chief of the bureau of fish maagement, is beginning an extensive study of the gars to see just how much damage is being done annually. One of the phases will consist of an analysis of garfish stomachs to see just what they eat.

At Turkeyfoot, one of the Portage lakes, a 15-pound gar was hooked recently by an angler who had a real battle getting it into his boat and killing it. gars will grow as large as eight and ten feet long. It's the long-nosed gar which is found in Ohio

The gar is a pre-historic hangover, dating back thousands of centuries to the Mesozoic era before the glacial ages, and you can believe it if you've ever seen one

Although it's flesh is considered far from a delicacy by most people, Wickliff said, it is edible

He led off with a single to left. Stole second, and went to third on Harry Seigbert's grounder to the pitcher. Don Wentz batted for Tim Mangan and his towering fly to center allowed Missler to score.

Hal Hundemer set the pace at the plate in the nightcap with a triple and single. Missler and Howard Beals added two singles apiece.

Mike Wentz, Friendly House boys' supervisor, announced today that the All-Star game between the two teams selected from the Knot Hole league players, will be staged Saturday at 6 p. m., as a preliminary at the Braves-Tiffin game at the Fairground.

All players in the contest are requested to report at the Fairground at 5 45 p m All Knot Hole league players, whether they play in the All-Star game or not, will be admitted free to the Braves' game

We Made a Mistake
We purchased the entire trade-in and repossessed stock of a closed eastern store. We do not have room for all of it and do not wish to rent a warehouse. We are offering part of it at a ridiculous low price to make room. For instance, Bridge and Jr. Lamps for 97c, console radios $5.95, 2 and 3-pc. living room suites, $14.50 to $29.50, 8 and 9-pc. dining suites $8.95 to $49.50, heavy Wilton rugs $29.50. These prices are good only as long as it takes us to make room.

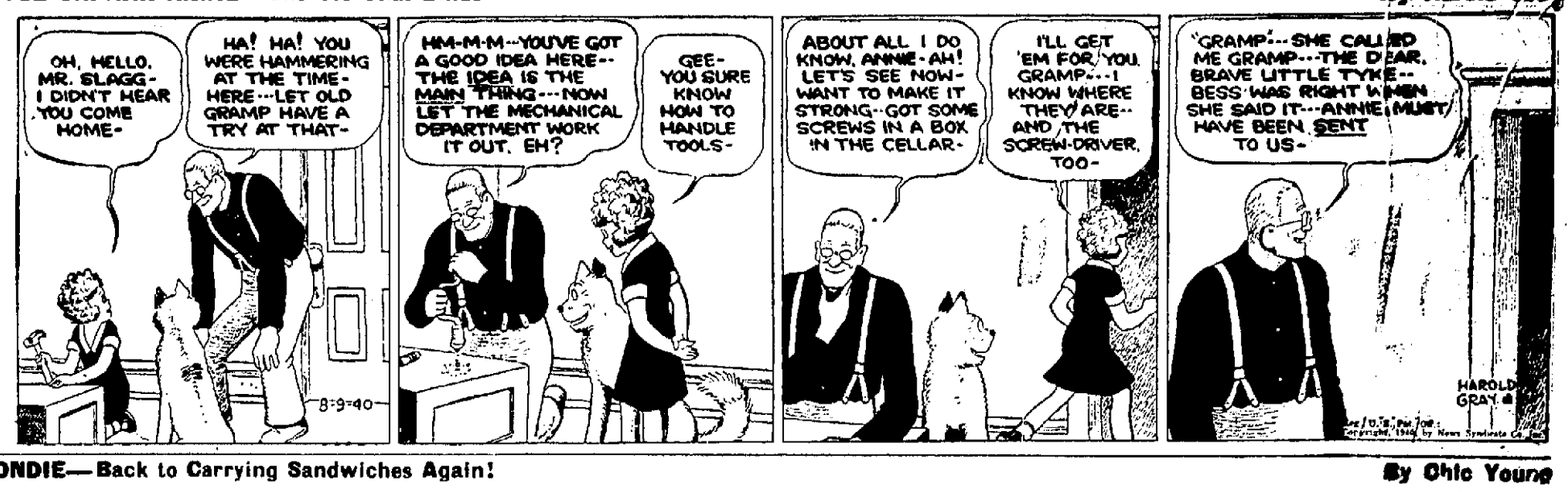
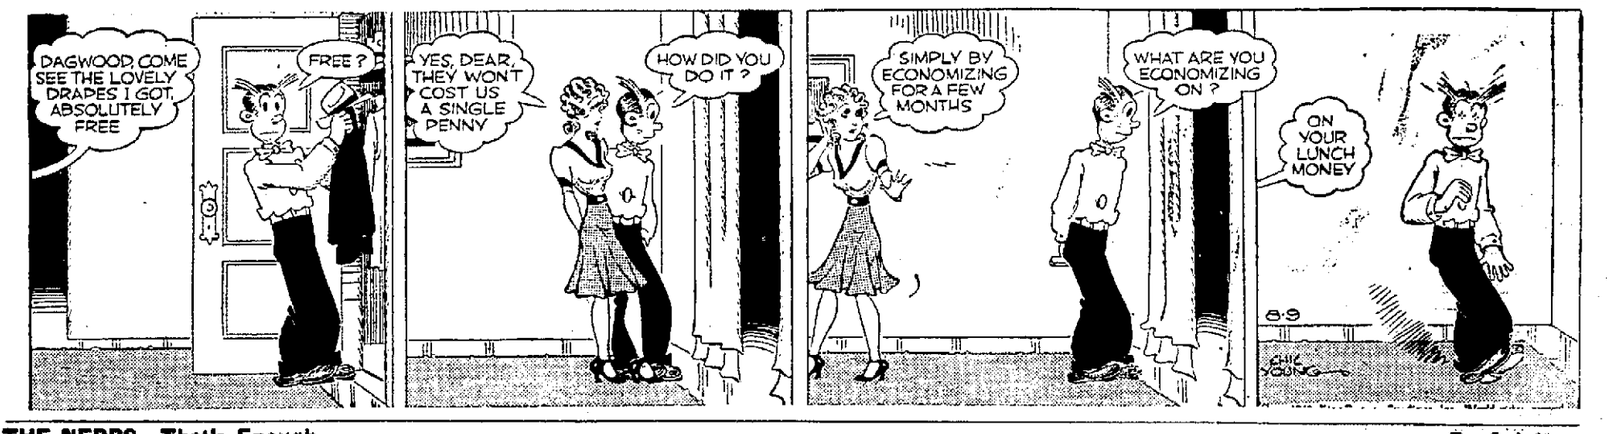
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—The Tie That Binds By Harold Gray



OH, HELLO, MR. SLAGG- I DIDN'T HEAR YOU COME HOME-
HA! HA! YOU WERE HAMMERING AT THE TIME- HERE---LET OLD GRAMP HAVE A TRY AT THAT-
8-9-40
HM-M-M--YOU'VE GOT A GOOD IDEA HERE-- THE IDEA IS THE MAIN THING---NOW LET THE MECHANICAL DEPARTMENT WORK IT OUT, EH?
GEE- YOU SURE KNOW HOW TO HANDLE TOOLS-
ABOUT ALL I DO KNOW, ANNIE-AH! LET'S SEE NOW- WANT TO MAKE IT STRONG--GOT SOME SCREWS IN A BOX IN THE CELLAR-
I'LL GET 'EM FOR YOU, GRAMP---I KNOW WHERE THEY ARE-- AND THE SCREW-DRIVER, TOO-
'GRAMP---SHE CALLED ME GRAMP---THE DEAR, BRAVE LITTLE TYKE-- BESS WAS RIGHT WHEN SHE SAID IT---ANNIE MUST HAVE BEEN SENT TO US-
HAROLD GRAY

BLONDIE—Back to Carrying Sandwiches Again! By Chic Young



DAGWOOD, COME SEE THE LOVELY DRAPES I GOT, ABSOLUTELY FREE
FREE ?
YES, DEAR, THEY WON'T COST US A SINGLE PENNY
HOW DID YOU DO IT ?
SIMPLY BY ECONOMIZING FOR A FEW MONTHS
WHAT ARE YOU ECONOMIZING ON ?
ON YOUR LUNCH MONEY

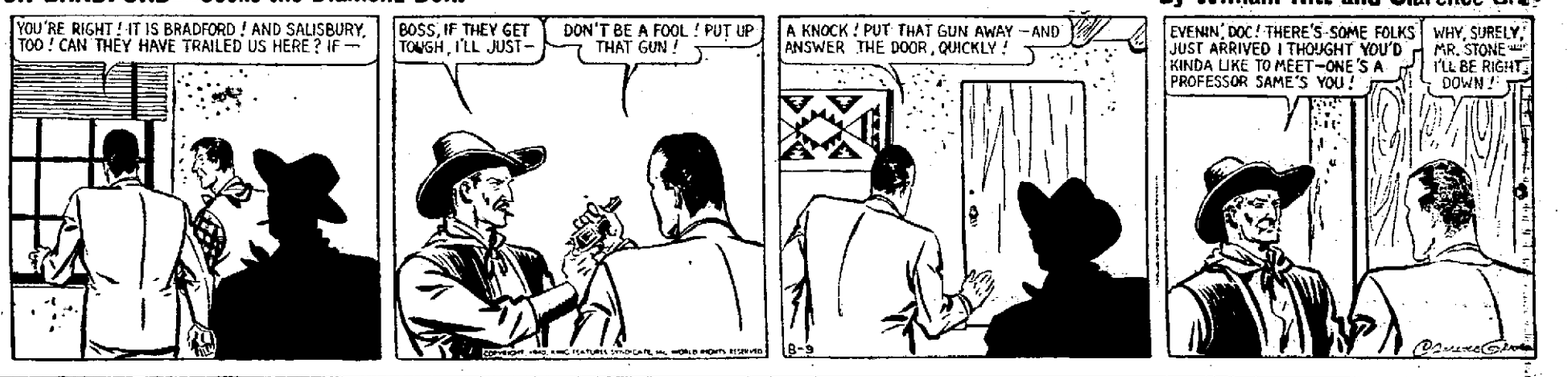
PAM— Lucky Girl By A. W. Brewerton

CLARE MEETS PAM WITH THE CAR.
FEELING ALL RIGHT, HONEY ? HAVEN'T BEEN WORKING TOO HARD ?
OH, NO, CLARE, I'M FEELING FINE.
BUT WHAT'S ALL THE EXCITEMENT ? I'M DYING TO HEAR ABOUT IT!
WELL-HANG ON TO YOUR HAT! THE BOSS IS OFF FOR A LITTLE RELAXATION AT THE BEACH FOR A WEEK; HE WANTS TO DO SOME WORK WHILE THERE, DICTATION FOR AN HOUR OR SO A DAY---
---SO-O-OO, HE WANTS ME TO GO ALONG AND DO HIS WORK. ALL MY EXPENSES PAID-AND MOST OF THE DAY TO FROLIC. SWANKY HOTEL, WONDERFUL BEACH!
--AND-GET THIS-IT'LL BE PERFECTLY PROPER 'CAUSE HIS WIFE IS GOING WITH HIM.
CLARE! YOU LUCKY GIRL! HOW GRAND!
WAIT! I'VE ANOTHER IDEA---
CONTINUED TOMORROW

THE NEBBS—That's Enough By Sol Hess

I'M GOING DOWN AND TELL THAT CLERK IF HE'LL GIVE US A $10 ROOM, I'LL LAST TWICE AS LONG AND ENJOY THE STAY TWICE AS MUCH
AND DON'T WEAKEN WHEN YOU TALK TO HIM AND KEEP THAT SAME EXPRESSION THAT I'VE HAD TO LOOK AT EVER SINCE WE LANDED
8-9
MR. NEBB, I WANT YOUR AUTOGRAPH
ME, TOO! IF YOU PLEASE, MR. NEBB!
AND HOW ABOUT ME ?
MR. NEBB, I OWE YOU AN APOLOGY! I DIDN'T KNOW YOU WERE THE MR. NEBB WHO FLEW AROUND THE WORLD!
I'D NEVER HAVE OFFERED YOU ANYTHING LESS THAN OUR $30 DELUXE SUITE. I'LL BE GLAD TO HAVE THE BOY TRANSFER YOUR BAGGAGE!
NO, I'LL KEEP WHAT I'VE GOT-- MONEY OR FAME NEVER WENT TO MY HEAD-THAT TO ME WOULD BE A VULGAR DISPLAY OF WEALTH AND AT HEART I'M A COMMONER

BRICK BRADFORD—Seeks the Diamond Doll. By William Ritt and Clarence Gray



YOU'RE RIGHT ! IT IS BRADFORD ! AND SALISBURY, TOO ! CAN THEY HAVE TRAILED US HERE ? IF—BOSS, IF THEY GET TOUGH, I'LL JUST—
DON'T BE A FOOL ! PUT UP THAT GUN !
A KNOCK ! PUT THAT GUN AWAY—AND ANSWER THE DOOR, QUICKLY !
8-9
EVENIN', DOC ! THERE'S SOME FOLKS JUST ARRIVED I THOUGHT YOU'D KINDA LIKE TO MEET-ONE'S A PROFESSOR SAME'S YOU !
WHY, SURELY, MR. STONE I'LL BE RIGHT DOWN !

RECOVERY SIGN APPEARS TODAY IN STOCK MART

U. S. Steel, General Motors Among Group Receiving Support; Bonds Steady.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Recovery signs appeared in today's stock market, but they were highly selective.

Supported were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown, Chrysler, General Motors, Studebaker, Sears Roebuck, United Aircraft, Curtiss-Wright, American Telephone and North American.

Bonds and commodities held to a moderately steady course.

Merchandising company shares came in for further scrutiny when Dun & Bradstreet estimated retail spending throughout the country this week topped the comparable period last year by 7 to 10 per cent.

Another survey placed chain store sales in July at 8.8 per cent above the like 1939 months.

PLANE ATTACK DEEP MYSTERY

porters learned from a postal inspector and from John Oman, 2nd. of Nashville, that Miss Griffith was found not in the women's lounge but in the baggage compartment.

There was no explanation of how the baggage compartment door could be unlocked after she had swallowed the key to keep it from being unlocked or what caused her to believe that it would be better for her to swallow the key than run the slightest risk of it falling into unauthorized hands.

A line official said the compartment contained only passengers' baggage and "local" mail destined for Memphis—unregistered mail whose contents would be known only to the mailers. The other mail was in a compartment forward, unaccessible to anyone while the plane was in flight. In New York, C. R. Smith, president of the lines, said that so far as he knew there was nothing particularly valuable in the mail or the passengers' baggage.

Miss Griffith was permitted to see no one, though hospital authorities said her condition was not serious. Airport Police Captain Chester H. Porum rode with the passengers from Nashville to Dallas and returned here to advance the theory that a "bump" had thrown Miss Griffith off her feet and she sustained her bruised head and body in the fall. Paul Stanley, local manager of the line, advanced the same theory.

CORONER SAYS FISH DROWNED

Sportsmen Mourn Deaths of Many Finny Friends.

SALISBURY, Md. — (AP)—Thousands of fish died in the upper Wicomico river and irate sportsmen demanded an autopsy.

"They drowned," said Dr. Seth H. Hurdle, county health officer acting as coroner.

Foreign matter and summer heat reduced the oxygen in the stream below the life sustaining requirement.

BRITISH POWER THREATENED BY FASCIST DRIVE

added that total German airplane losses over Britain since June 18, when large-scale air attacks first began, have now almost reached the 400 mark. If German losses are maintained at this rate, they said the Germans will find it too costly to maintain the "blitzkrieg" indefinitely.

In the Far East developments began to move swiftly again—and spelled more trouble for Great Britain.

The East Asia Association of Tokyo sent a petition to Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye asking the government to declare war against Britain.

A little earlier 126 members of the Japanese parliament formed a political group and adopted a resolution to "drive British influence out of east Asia."

At the same time, Reuters news agency said the situation of French Indo-China was growing more tense and that large Japanese naval and army concentrations were massed at Hainan. The French, said this dispatch, are reported rushing defense preparations in Indo-China, where Japan is said to be demanding the right to establish army and navy bases as well as a free hand to attack Kunming.

The British war office announced that British troops at Shanghai and in north China are being withdrawn for service elsewhere for reasons of military convenience arising out of the European conflict. Fifteen hundred troops are affected by this decision.

At Bucharest Rumanian negotiations with Bulgaria regarding the latter's claims upon south Dobruja bogged down as the Iron Guard organization turned against the Rumanian government of Premier Gigurtu. It was understood that until this situation is clarified, Gigurtu is unwilling to make definte commitments regarding territoriai concessions.

King Carol entered the Balkan political arena by proclaiming a new series of laws restricting the privileges of Rumanian Jews and forbidding them to marry gentiles.

POOL APPROVED

Galion Health Commissioner OK's Heise Park Water.

GALION — Dr. J. George Mannhardt, Galion health commissioner, today gave the swimming pool at Heise park a "clean bill of health."

Recent rumors that the pool was not entirely healthy had reduced the usual number of swimmers.

After an investigation of "several days" Dr. Mannhardt today said the pool was "absolutely safe," that it was properly filtered and chemically treated, and that swimmers are in no danger of contracting disease from the water.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS FOR PARKING METERS

The City of Mansfield Ohio will receive sealed bids for the 9 months rental, withoption to purchase 500 more or less, parking meters until 12 o'clock noon on 26th day of August, 1940 No specifications will be published other than the following instructions to bidders.

The parking meters shall be of the automatic or manual type, but the Board of Control reserves the right to decide after receipt of competitive bids which type is best suited to the requirements of the City of Mansfield. Meters are to operate on a 5c coin for a period of 60 minutes and are therefore single coin meters. Alternate bids will be received on 2 hour meters, the meters to operate for 2 hours on a 5c coin. Alternate bids will be received also on penny and nickel combination meters. Each bidder shall state which type he is bidding upon.

Each bidder shall submit detailed specifications of his meter, its method of operation and method of installation, and shall also submit a sample parking meter of the identical type that he proposes to furnish under his bid.

Each bidder shall be required to deposit with the City of Mansfield, with his bid a certified check in the amount of $500.00 on a solvent bank in the state of Ohio to guarantee his entering into a contract if given the award. Checks to the unsuccessful bidders will be returned after the successful bidder has executed his contract and satisfied the City of Mansfield he is proceeding with the installation of parking meters.

No bids will be considered on obsolete or discontinued models.

The bids shall be quoted on a rental basis for a period of 9 months stated in dollars and cents per meter per month. The bidders shall then state the option price he will ask the City of Mansfield to pay at the expiration of the 9 months rental period in the event the City desires to purchase the meters.

The bidders shall also state what period of time, if any, they will service the meters during the rental period and state the guarantee period during which they are willing to [illegible] additional charge to the City [illegible]

Each bidder shall also state what he will charge for spare parts [illegible] such as extra coin boxes, coin box carrying cases and meter parts etc.

Each bidder shall state the time he requires for making installation after proper notification of the awarding of the contract by the City of Mansfield.

In renting these meters the City of Mansfield agrees to enforce the parking meter ordinance, to collect and keep receipts from the parking meters, to paint the lines on the streets at [illegible] where the meters may [illegible] and to [illegible] the meters.

Each bidder will be required to furnish with each bid a parts list setting forth the [illegible] that he considers necessary [illegible] of Mansfield for parts if any are required.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a performance bond for the full amount of the contract.

The bidders shall also furnish a list of their installations.

The City of Mansfield reserves the right to order installed at various times any part or all of the meters bid upon during the one year period from date of contract.

The Board of Control reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

FUNERAL SET

Rites For Miss Freida Haun To Be Held Saturday.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at Gilbert's chapel in Ashland for Miss Freida Haun, 27, a native of Mansfield, who died Wednesday night at the Richland county home. Burial will be in Reedsburg cemetery.

Born in Mansfield, Miss Haun had been at the home for the past two years. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Haas of Mansfield and Mrs. Eldon Harper of near Mansfield, and three brothers, Jacob and Walter Haun of Mansfield and Charles of Youngstown.

BIGGER DRAFT PROGRAM SEEN

Overwhelming Vote Given to National Guard Muster By Upper House.

from 21 through 30 would be liable for immediate draft and military duty.

The guard-reserve bill was sent to the house with only minor changes. Seven senators voted against passage; Bulow (D-SD), Donahey (D-Ohio), Gillette (D-Iowa), Holt (D-WVa), Danaher (R-Conn) Nye (R-ND) and Lundeen (Fl-Minn.)

The senate adopted unanimously an amendment by Senator Pittman (D-Nev) to permit guardsmen and reservists with dependent wives or children to resign within 20 days after enactment of the measure. Only the day before the chamber had defeated a proposal to let any enrollee quit the service.

Administration forces, aided by some Republican votes, beat off 39 to 38 an amendment by Senator Adams (D-Colo) to restrict use of the guard to the continental United States, American possessions and the Philippines.

As the bill now stands, its operations would be authorized anywhere in the western hemisphere. Had Adams' amendment been adopted, the guard could not be sent to Latin America.

Conscription foes said the close vote against this amendment indicated that there was much latent opposition in the senate to compulsory service. But Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, said he saw in it only a reaction to public demand that American troops be kept out of the European war.

Approximately 396,000 guardsmen, reserve officers, enlisted reserves, retired officers and retired enlisted men would be subject to call for a year's service under the bill.

Gen. George C Marshall, army chief-of-staff, testified, however, that only 55,426 enlisted men, 3,930 officers and 53 warrant officers of the guard would be ordered to duty immediately.

Mustering of a portion of the National Guard is considered by military men as a preliminary to any conscription program, for the guard and reserve officers would train the drafted units.

Conscription advocates have proposed a date about Sept. 1 for registration, with the first 400,000 men to be called into compulsory service a month later.

It begins to appear unlikely, however, that the program—if enacted—could be put into effect so quickly. Opponents predict lengthy senate debate, and the house will not take up the issue until the senate has acted.

Main Provisions Of Guard Muster

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Here are the main provisions of the National Guard mobilization bill approved by the senate yesterday:

The president could call out National Guardsmen and army reserves for a year's active duty. The emergency power would expire June 30, 1942. (Actually the army plans to order only certain units into service.)

The guard could be sent anywhere in the western hemisphere, American possessions, or the Philippine Islands.

Persons subject to the call who have wives or children dependent on their earnings could resign within 20 days after the bill's passage.

Employers who refused to rehire militiamen after their return to civilian life would be subject to prosecution under the Wagner act for an unfair labor practice.

Men called into training would be guaranteed debt relief similar to that extended American soldiers in the World war. This includes a moratorium on installment payments and insurance premiums.

As Derby Winner Prepares for Akron Trip

Jack Thompson, 15, of Indiana avenue, Lincoln Heights, is pictured above in the gravity-driver coaster he guided to victory in the fourth annual Mansfield Soap Box Derby Wednesday. The coaster has been painted and inspected for competition in the All-American and International Derby at Derby Downs in Akron Sunday. Thompson, who will be the guest of The News-Journal at Akron, left early today to prepare to participate in the Derby. The racer was transported to Akron this morning and will be inspected at Akron by the All-American Derby officials Saturday. Thompson won the Mansfield classic by defeating Herbert Klopfenstein in the grand finals. Klopfenstein won the Class B division title, while Thompson annexed the Class A crown.

TROLLEY LINES 52 YEARS OLD

like car, with its open platform in front, came out of the power house, there were cheers that rang for blocks up the street.

P. M. Hoover, 343 Springmill street, who operated a street car in Mansfield for 30 years between 1904 and 1934, remembers the occasion.

"Johnny Hunt, who died some years ago, was the motorman-conductor," Mr. Hoover recalls. On the car were mostly workmen, the man who built the car and his son. On that first run—and for a long time afterward—they had a lot of trouble with the controls and the power conductor. It would slip off the wires, everyone would get a terrific jolt and the motorman would reach up with a long pole and put the trolley back on the wires."

The car stopped at what is now the H. L. Reed corner and photographers took pictures. One of them, showing the maker of the car and his son at the controls, was published in last Sunday's issue of the News-Journal. Grant White was one of the workmen aboard the car.

It was a notable event, for this was the first overhead trolley car in Ohio, and many believed at that time it was the first in the world.

One man operated the car and passengers deposited their fares in a little slot in the front of the car, much as they did in later years. The first tracks were up Main street to the square, out Park avenue to Helen avenue, out West Fourth to Sycamore, and out Main and Springmill to Bowman.

There were two trolley wires overhead, and two flexible leads brought the current down to the motors. Mr. Hoover recalls that the "conductor" was a little four-wheeled car truck which ran on top of the wires. Sometimes it jumped off the wires and the trolley rods fell to the top of the street car with a thump. On several occasions the rods went through the roof of the car, "scaring the passengers to death," he said.

But that was 52 years ago and the last of the street car tracks are being torn up. The last street cars were discontinued here several years ago, replaced by modern transportation buses.

50 AT PARLEY

AAA Committeemen From Area Convene in Mansfield.

Nearly 50 federal agricultural conservation officials from nine north central Ohio counties were in Mansfield today to set up their crop loan and crop insurance programs for next year.

Meeting in an all-day session at the courthouse, the county committeemen were scheduled to hear talks by El. Durrec, Ohio crop loan supervisor and Theodore Ruperi, state crop insurance supervisor. John Cummins of Savannah, Sixth district AAA field man, was in charge of the meeting.

Guy Taylor, Richland county AAA chairman said the state crop officials would outline the new federal programs for 1941, answer questions, and aid county committeemen in mapping their crop loan and insurance plans.

Representatives from Richland, Ashland Crawford Knox, Huron, Wayne Erie, Medina and Lorain counties were asked to attend the meeting.

PLANES DELAYED

Uncertainty of Taxes Blamed for Slow Orders.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Stimson reported today that the army had been able to sign contracts for only 33 of 4,000 planes appropriated for during June, "chiefly" because of uncertainties over tax legislation.

The war department chief told a congressional tax hearing that "the fault" for such a limited number of plane contracts was not with the army and that "so far as I am aware" there had been no undue delay in the preparation of the army's specifications and designs.

and reasonable remoteness from possible attack.

Funds Appropriated.

Congress already has appropriated $200,000,000 for beginning the chain of plants designed to assure the government of a permanent and adequate source of munitions.

Funds for additional plants are contained in the house-approved $4,963,000,000 second supplemental defense appropriation bill.

A study of Richland county's available water supply is being made before the railroad completes its report on the situation here.

The war department already has signed a contract with the E. I. duPont de Nemours and company to operate the first of the new plants—a $25,000,000 smokeless powder establishment at Charlestown, Ind.

Washington dispatches say that the broad program is to permit private industry to operate the plants, which will be built with federal funds, on an "indefinite basis until all needs are met."

Sites are being selected rapidly for the new industries, the dispatches said, which include such things as smokeless powder, TNT, chemicals, and other essentials, and negotiations for their operations by private concerns are being pushed.

Treasury Chief Urges Passage of Excess Profits Tax

HUGE FEDERAL DEFICIT FACED FOR THIS YEAR

Morgenthau Says Government Will Be $5,700,000,000 Short in Revenues.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Secretary Morgenthau, forecasting a $5,700,000,000 federal deficit this year, urged congress today to open another source of government revenue and provide a "better distribution" of defense costs by enacting an excess profits tax.

Appearing before a joint meeting of the house ways and means committee and the senate finance committee, the treasury chief also proposed prompt action on pending tax legislation because he said it would facilitate execution of defense contracts.

"The national defense program," Morgenthau said, "places upon us the duty of reconsidering certain features of the tax structure now, in order to obtain a rapid expansion of production for defense and a better distribution of its cost to the taxpayer."

The excess profits tax has been estimated by experts to yield $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year.

The treasury and budget bureau have calculated that, as of Aug. 5, the treasury faced expenditures of more than $12,000,000,000 in this fiscal year ending June 30, 1941, Morgenthau said. Revenue estimates, he reported, totaled $6,367,000,000 including the new defense taxes recently enacted.

Unless new taxes were enacted, he continued, virtually all of the new $49,000,000,000 federal borrowing power would be exhausted by June 30, 1941.

CONDUIT CAUSES NEW DELAY IN STREET PAVING

Workmen Find Recently Laid Police, Fire Line Blocking Sewer Construction.

Electrical conduit for the police and fire signal system laid only a few weeks ago on West Fourth street caused a new stall in work on the street improvement today.

Workmen engaged in replacing a 20-inch sewer tile with 24-inch concrete pipe, found today that the conduit had been placed so near the street surface that it would prevent them from laying the sewer pipe across the street at the Walnut street intersection.

To solve the problem, city officials said the sewer will be placed half way across the street and that a sluice will be built across the remaining distance.

Construction of the sluice box will cause considerable delay, in the placing of forms and pouring the concrete at the intersection, city officials said.

Meanwhile the pouring of concrete parking strips east of Main street by the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company moved along at a swifter pace. The company had the section between North Diamond and North Main streets nearly completed this afternoon.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton stepped into the construction picture today by notifying WPA and state officials not to close the North Mulberry street intersection until the Walnut intersection is completed.

ADMITS MURDER, GOES TO DEATH

Slayer Nonchalant Entering Lethal Gas Chamber In Arizona Pen.

(By Associated Press)

FLORENCE, Ariz.—Nonchalant Robert Burgunder went to his death in the lethal gas chamber at dawn today with a confession on his lips.

As he was being strapped to the wooden seat in the little white execution chamber of the Arizona penitentiary, Burgunder, chewing gum all the while, said:

"I admit the killings. I never tried to defend myself."

Then the steel door was slammed and the cyanide pellets dropped into a container of acid at the feet of the 23-year-old former college orator. As the wisps of blue fumes lifted upward, Burgunder breathed deeply without the convulsions of most executed men. He died at 5:10 a. m., seven minutes after his entrance into the death chamber.

The youth was convicted of killing E. B. Peterson, who with Ellis M. Koury, was shot to death in the desert near here April 29, 1939. Burgunder used their automobile for a trip.

Citing fire hazards, the service director said at least one of the streets would have to remain open so fire trucks would have a fire lane to the north side of the city besides North Main street.

He also notified them that the Bowman street crossing was not to be closed off until both Walnut and Mulberry streets are opened.

BURIED TODAY

Friends Pay Last Respects to Fred L. Holibaugh.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. today at the Finefrock funeral home for Fred L. Holibaugh, Mansfield insurance dealer, who died at his home, 97 Parkwood boulevard, Tuesday afternoon.

Serving as pallbearers were representatives from First Congregational church, the Kiwanis club and his business associates. They were William F. Black and Charles Fuchs from the church, Dwight Smith and Carlton Fernyak from the club, and Earl A. McFarland and Bryan Terman, business associates.

Rev. Peter Young officiated and the body was taken to the family burial plot in Centerburg for interment.

Yesterday noon members of the Kiwanis club adopted resolutions, highly commending the life of Mr. Holibaugh, a copy of which was sent to the Holibaugh family.

100 Executives Convene Here on Defense Problem

The national defense program and its relation to industry will be discussed next Tuesday by more than 100 manufacturing executives from north central Ohio who will gather in Mansfield.

Meeting at the Westbrook Country club the executives will lay the foundation for co-operation among manufacturers for handling defense orders, George Draffan, vice president of the Ohio Brass company, and general chairman in charge of arrangements, said.

"It will be strictly an informal gathering," Draffan explained. "Just a matter of getting better acquainted and to talk over some of the problems we have in common.

"Right now we haven't any particular problems, but we want to be able to cope with any that might arise."

The affair, which will include an afternoon of golf and dinner at the club, is being sponsored by the Manufacturers division of the Chamber of Commerce. C. A. Hines, president of Farm Tools, Inc., is president of the division.

Appreciable amounts of calcium are contained in cheese, cauliflower, oranges, spinach and oysters.

WOMAN CLAIMS POLICE DON'T BOTHER SIDEWALK SOLICITORS

Soliciting for immoral purposes is being carried on in Mansfield's north side by women knowing they will "not be bothered" by police, a witness in an assault and battery case told Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch in municipal court today.

The assertion was made from the witness stand by Pauline Lawton, colored, 65 East Sixth street defendant in the assault case.

Charges were filed by Nettie Saunders, also colored, of the same address, who charged that she was struck by the Lawton woman when she refused to move from the street corner near the Lawton woman's home.

The Lawton woman was arrested following an alleged altercation between the two early yesterday morning.

She testified that an argument had ensued between the two because the Saunders woman was "soliciting" in front of her home. She denied that she had struck the other woman.

Rosie Starr, of the same address, a witness in the cases, told the court the altercation took place after the Saunders woman had told the Lawton woman that the "police didn't care if she was soliciting, so why should she be told to move."

The Lawton woman, who pleaded innocent to the charge, was found guilty and fined $5 and costs.

ROOSEVELT ARRANGES ANOTHER WEEK-END NAVY DEFENSE TRIP

(By Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt arranged to leave his Hudson valley estate today for his second survey tour of the nation's defense facilities, heading into New England for a three-day swing that will return him to Washington Tuesday.

Going first to New Hampshire, the president will visit the Portsmouth, N. H. navy yard, the Boston navy yard and the army arsenal at Watertown, Mass., tomorrow. He will spend Sunday at sea, and wind up the trip Monday with visits to the naval training station, war college and torpedo factory at Newport, R. I., the site of a new naval air base in the same state, the submarine base at New London, Conn., and the Electric Boat company plant at Groton, Conn.

In the area to be visited, naval ships which cost approximately $181,900,000 are under construction or have just been launched.

Back in Washington, Mr. Roosevelt will confront the need for filling one, and possibly two, places in his cabinet.

One cabinet job will be open Aug. 31, when Postmaster-General James A. Farley's, resignation becomes effective.

Henry A. Wallace, the vice-presidential candidate, may create a second vacancy in the cabinet by resigning as secretary of agriculture once he has accepted his nomination, on Aug. 29, and begun campaigning.

COLORADO SPRINGS (INS)—With eight days to go before his acceptance speech at Elwood, Ind., Wendell Willkie pared away at a semi-complete draft today determined to hold it down to three-quarters of an hour or less.

Willkie doesn't believe the speech ever was written that would hold anyone's attention longer than that and his extemporaneous speeches are seldom more than five minutes but he crowds a lot into that much time.

Trimming of the first draft made a week ago has been made necessary by new developments which have arisen. Since his stand on conscription has been asked, he wants to get in something about that and it now appears that he will put in a paragraph or two about Democratic political machines, the Hatch act and a couple of other subjects to which no reference was made in the original draft.

DIES IN WEST

Word was received here today of the death in Los Angeles, Cal., on Aug. 7 of George Greenlee, former Mansfielder.

Mr. Greenlee, who was 55, was associated here in the barber firm of Greenlee and Anderson. He left Mansfield to make his home in the west about 10 years ago.

He is survived by four children, Maxine, Evelyn, Jack and Rex in California. His wife, the former Edith Dir, daughter of J. H. Dir, 62 Prospect street, preceded Mr. Greenlee in death.

DeMolays Plan to Hold Picnic; Two Other Events Set

Baku chapter, Order of DeMolay, completed plans for a stag picnic and steak roast set for Sunday afternoon, during a meeting last night at Grotto hall.

The outing will be held at Lemley's cottage, near Johnsville. Members will meet at Grotto hall at 2 p. m. and go to the cottage in a body. Each boy will furnish his own steak. Other refreshments will be provided by the lodge.

Plans for two other events were also announced at the meeting. The DeLomay degree will be conferred on seven candidates at the next regular meeting, Aug. 22, and the chapter will sponsor a public dance Aug. 23 at Grotto hall. Tickets are being sold by DeMolay members, and Harold Wynn is chairman of the dance committee.

PICNIC SUNDAY

Liederkranz to Hold Annual Outing at Grove.

The Mansfield Liederkranz will hold its annual picnic Sunday at Winsky's grove, south of Alta on the Marion avenue road, according to an announcement by J. P. Schmidt, secretary.

The affair is open to members, their families and friends. Refreshments will be served and a program of entertainment has been planned for the day.

RAIN FORECAST

The return of warmer weather will bring showers to the Mansfield area late tonight and Saturday, the forecast predicted today.

After climbing to 83 degrees yesterday, the temperature was headed for a new high for the week today, reaching 86 at noon. Because the mercury fell to 55 last night, the average reading for the past 24 hours was held to 69, about four degrees below normal.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1940.

There was a time when the protection of two oceans seemed like a good thing.

Quite likely there would also be some volunteer taxpayers—but not enough to meet needs.

Mr. Willkie now believes that he can keep his acceptance speech down to 5,000 words—and if they're the right ones that should be enough.

States Reaching Agreements

FROM the headquarters of the Council of State Governments comes word that co-operation is growing among the sovereign states of this Union. In the last year, the announcement says, at least thirty states have ended disputes over conflicting regulations and trade barriers.

Milk sanitation and inspection, bootlegging across state boundaries, river pollution, the interstate movement of trucks, discriminatory fees, license laws for private drivers, and so on, have been among the issues which caused conflict and which have now either been solved or started on the way to solution to the mutual good of all states concerned.

Interstate fishing and trapping laws, the transfer of dependent persons between states, licenses for fishing boats, boundary lines, are other matters that caused friction in the past but are now being handled with a degree of mutual understanding which foreshadows success.

This is as it should be. The federal constitution was adopted and the United States formed in order to end harmful disputes, rivalries and tariffs among the thirteen separate colonies. To go back to the old attitude of every state for itself would be to weaken the strength of the nation.

Wins After Three Defeats

LET'S remember to keep an eye on Jack Thompson, the 15-year-old Lincoln Heights boy who won the Soap Box Derby Wednesday afternoon—after having failed three successive years.

Somewhere along the line Jack probably heard of that once popular copybook motto, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," which has more recently been supplanted by an idea that one trial is enough and that a pension should follow the first failure.

It appears that Jack, after his earlier failures, studied the causes of those failures and each year built a car that was an improvement over the preceding one—until finally he produced a winner. It was "faster wheels," he said, that did the trick.

Fifteen is an interesting age. It is an age of transition from early boyhood into young manhood—an age when habits are being molded into traits of character which will have a marked influence on later life.

There will continue to be people who fail—usually for reasons obvious to everyone except themselves—and there will be people who, through lack of effort or other causes, do not advance beyond the mediocre—but there must also be some in each generation who prepare themselves for places of higher responsibility which must be filled.

After all, it is not so much the winning that counts as it is the TRYING—and every contestant in the Soap Box Derby TRIED!

So, here's congratulations and best wishes to Jack Thompson—with confidence that he has already made a good start toward doing something worthwhile—and a suggestion to all contenders, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Needless Horn-Honking

SO MANY problems of major importance have arisen in connection with motor traffic that the seriousness of unnecessary horn-honking is sometimes overlooked.

Such a situation as exists in Toledo, however, with two hospitals located on a street where there is heavy traffic day and night, has served to arouse public interest to the extent of attempting to stop needless blowing of horns during the night.

While a "quiet zone" in the vicinity of hospitals is specially important, there is scarcely a residence section in any city in which there is not illness and in which the sleep of residents, sick and well, is not disturbed by entirely unnecessary honking of auto horns at all times of night.

As Mansfield moves toward better enforcement of traffic regulations it may be worthwhile for city council to consider a more definite restriction on the use of auto horns after night, as is now being contemplated in Toledo.

Meanwhile the suggestion is offered that competent and careful drivers very seldom find it necessary to use the horn, except as a signal of intention to pass another car on the highway—and there is no instance on record of a traffic jam having been cleared by horn-honking.

Japan's Ambitious Scheme

JAPAN'S plan for its new state is becoming clearer as the government of Premier Konoye takes steps to carry it out. Talk of "a new order for Greater East Asia" indicates the scope of the Japanese policy—taking in French Indo-China and the Netherlands Indies as well as Japan, Manchoukuo and the occupied sections of China.

As reported by Hugh Byas in the New York Times, the Japanese government intends to concentrate first on pushing its plans for East Asia. Second will come internal reconstruction along modern totalitarian lines. Closer co-operation with the Axis powers—meaning Hitler—is third. The threat of that is of great nuisance value to European dictators, because it keeps European and American interests in Asia in a state of uncertainty and peril.

American business in China is virtually at a standstill. Japanese permits for United States trade in the Yangtse Valley have expired and have not been renewed. No American imports have been permitted in North China since June 29.

Britain Cuts Red Tape

ANTHONY EDEN, England's war secretary, evidently has something beside good looks. He has started to clean out that venerable office, and one of his first steps is the appointment of an efficiency boss, "not to cut red tape, but to cut red tape."

It makes a vast bureaucracy seem silly. A government can accumulate a lot of rubbish in 900 years. This startling outbreak may yet sweep through all the governmental departments, "wiping out old routine and substituting modern, efficiency methods." Such procedure itself might come half way toward winning the war. Washington may take notice.

THEY NEVER COME OUT THE SAME

Health And Diet

Milk Has High Energy Value

—By DR. CLENDENING

MILK is generally acknowledged as the most nearly perfect food. It provides the dietary essentials—protein, fat and carbohydrates—as well as minerals and vitamins. Nowadays with the improvement in dairy hygiene and public health inspection it has lost the dangers of causing intestinal infection in the summer and its easy digestibility makes it an ideal summer beverage food.

Milk and the dairy products are really among our most economical foods as they give more nutritive value at less cost than so many other foods. Government nutritionists suggest that from one-fifth to one-third of the average American family's allowance for food could well be spent on milk and its products. Physicians as a rule recommend a quart of milk a day for children and at least a pint for adults.

Source of Vitamin A.

Milk is an excellent source of vitamin A, something frequently lacking in our American diets. Without vitamin A growth of children can be impaired, night blindness can result and resistance to infections is lowered, especially in the respiratory tract. Of the minimum daily requirement of 3,000 units of vitamin A, one quart of milk contains 2,000 and 1½ ounces of butter will supply 1,500 units.

A quart of milk provides all the calcium needed by an individual for a day, much of the phosphorus, at least one-fourth of the energy and some of the vitamin B, C and D. Calcium and phosphorus are responsible for the hardness of teeth and bones, so milk is necessary for their good growth. One pint of milk contains as much calcium as 15 to 20 ordinary servings of fruits and vegetables.

A Protective Food.

Milk proteins are the best building material for growth and repair of body tissues. The proteins in milk are composed of amino acids similar to those found in the human body and therefore are well adapted to conversion into body material.

Milk is considered a good protective food because it is an outstanding source of the elements which safeguard health. Protective foods form the basis of the adequate diet and at least one-half of the needed calories should be taken daily in the form of these protective foods, milk, vegetables, fruits and eggs.

In energy value a quart of milk is equivalent to 1 lb lean steak, 8 eggs, 1¾ lbs pork, 7 oranges, 3 1-5 lbs codfish, 3 lbs spinach, 7.8 lb fowl, 2 1-3 lbs oysters, 6 lbs tomatoes.

Listen, World!

The Search for Happiness.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I DON'T think much about happiness any more. I'm not even sure I want it. I'm after something else.

Remember how tremendously important happiness seemed to us when we were sixteen? If things didn't go just right—if we couldn't have what we wanted—what a row we made.

So the years went. Always we searched for happiness. Always it eluded us. Yet we searched on, for we honestly thought that happiness was the true goal of life. And there were few to dispute us. Almost without exception, our neighbors believed as we did.

Years passing. Lives passing. Searching for happiness. Staking everything they have on that search. Feeling that they've failed if they can't achieve that inner, blissful reaction, and of course, never achieving it save in snatches. Then going out at last, peeved at Fate, feeling that they've been two-timed.

Well, personally I've come to think that the search for happiness is the bunk. I don't believe that happiness is the great thing we were led to expect at sixteen. Nor that it's essential. Nor in many cases even desirable. Nor ever the goal of an ideal life.

I believe there's something greater in life than happiness, and that's GROWTH. To go on . . . learning about life . . . learning about oneself . . . taking risks . . . reaching . . . striving . . . suffering . . . putting off old selves, taking on new ones . . . regardless of danger or discomfort or loss or pain . . . LIVING, no matter what it costs.

"But that's just another kind of happiness," you say.

No, it isn't. It's an entirely different thing. Happiness means a certain definite reaction. Whether that reaction comes from owning a lollipop or a racing yacht—whether it's six-year-old or sixty-year-old happiness—the reaction is always the same. A sort of inner purr. AND I DON'T BELIEVE THAT AN INNER PURR IS NECESSARY FOR GREAT OR SUCCESSFUL LIVING.

I think the life that burns and weeps and curses and shudders may be much more worth while than the life that purrs—as long as these things contribute to growth. I think a broken heart may be a much better bargain than a blissful one.

And, indeed, I know of no great heart that wasn't broken . . . nor of any important life that didn't burn and weep and curse and shudder.

Christ on the cross . . . Socrates, drinking the hemlock . . . Joan, burning at the stake . . . Lincoln, facing the hate and ridicule of a nation . . . didn't purr. They weren't happy. They didn't expect happiness. They desired something much greater . . . life more abundant . . . that freedom of the soul which comes through the travail of death and birth.

So, at least, I've come to the point where I don't fuss about happiness. I no longer wonder if I'm happy or get mad if I'm not. All I ask now is that LIFE SHALL GIVE ME THE WORKS.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Monday, August 9, 1920.

Chautauqua closed with record of poorest attendance of any ever held here, and shortage of guarantors for next season.

Farmers Equity association of Worthington township bought Aungst elevator at Butler.

Ten-year-old Lindley Smith was recovering from injuries sustained when struck by auto.

Miss Ruth M. Dross and Allen C. Jackson were married at St. Peter's Catholic church.

W. F. Mattern and family returned from a three months trip to California.

Miss Mona A. White and Kenneth Robinson were married by Rev. W. C. B. Harris.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, August 9, 1935.

The Eleanor Thomas hospital was changed to a sanatorium for invalids, according to announcement made by Miss Thomas.

Charles D. Welden, 91, son of Mansfield pioneers, died.

Six thousand attended picnic of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, held at Myers Lake, Canton.

More than 300 members of the Citizens League attended the city wide mass meeting sponsored by that organization at Central park.

Miss Donna Moser and Ruhland Bell were united in marriage at the First Lutheran church.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On Aug. 9 1612, a class of nine was graduated at the first commencement of Harvard college. The school was founded by the Rev. John Harvard who bequeathed about $3,700, half of his estate—to the erection of a building.

Timely Editorial

Democracy Not a Gift.

Democracy is not a gift nor a heritage from the forefathers. It is something which must be created right now out of the stuff of everyday life. This is the reminder given in a recent article by Edward C. Lindeman of New York. Dr. Lindeman believes that if any benefit from Hitlerism comes to America it will be the awakening of the consciousness with millions of citizens here that the democratic way of life is of personal interest to them.

In former, easier days, the prevailing viewpoint was that democracy was something suffered for and fought for and securely gained by a former generation and left to us to use or to neglect. That concept is being corrected. More people than ever before in this nation see clearly what the threats to our democracy are from within and from without and they are determined that they will do something to remove such menaces through intelligent political action.—Toledo Blade.

Nazi Diplomacy Discloses Fear Of U. S. Drift From Isolation

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—How much American isolation means to Hitler and how worried he is over the drift toward selling U. S. destroyers to Great Britain has been illustrated by several factors recently.

One is the steady stream of statements and press interviews by Nazi leaders reminding the United States that she has no quarrel with Europe, and that Hitler has no intention of coming to the Western Hemisphere.

Positive proof that these are intended entirely for American consumption came the other day when Adolf Hitler sent for Hearst newsman, veteran Karl von Weigan, and gave him an exclusive interview, saying that he had no intention of going to South America.

King Features, which distributes Von Weigand's writings, immediately telegraphed to the leading papers of Latin America, offering to sell them the interview. A large number of the editors ordered it—when suddenly King Features discovered that Hitler had been there ahead of them. The German consuls and embassies in Latin America had distributed the speech free of charge and cable tolls paid to all newspapers.

Missing Farm Leader.

ONE of the chief subjects discussed at the GOP farm powwow in Des Moines was the McNary-Hagen bill, twice passed by congress and vetoed by Coolidge and Hoover.

But the news dispatches reporting this fact contained no mention of Senator Charles McNary, chief author of the famous measure and the running mate selected by Wendell Willkie for the specific purpose of wooing agricultural votes. Reason nothing was said about McNary at the conference was because he wasn't there.

Behind this is an interesting story. The prime movers of the meeting, among them Iowa's Governor George Wilson, either forgot or purposely did not invite McNary. At any rate he was not asked to come—until Willkie personally telephoned McNary two days before the conference.

This last-minute thought was inspired by Representative Frank Horton of Wyo., Willkie's personal friend. Horton discovered that no invitation had been extended to McNary by the Wilson group and hastily telephoned the presidential candidate at Colorado Springs. Willkie, in turn, immediately telephoned McNary and asked him to come.

However, the senate GOP floor leader declined because of the pressure of legislative duties. He explained that the bill calling the National Guard into active service was coming up Monday and he could not leave Washington.

Note — McNary's acceptance speech, like Willkie's, will not be more than one half hour's duration. One of the chief subjects of the address will be the water power issue, on which McNary has a strong public ownership record.

White House Nepotism.

SPEAKING of nepotism, it is interesting to note that on occasion, the White House secretariat is not above the oldest of political practices — squeezing patronage for members of the family.

Nepotist No. 1 is William H. McReynolds, one of the gentlemen with a "passion for anonymity," who was prompted through civil service to hold one of the most coveted jobs in Washington, secretary to the president. He is also secretary of the new National Defense Council.

Mr. McReynolds is supposed to handle personnel matters, that is to place the best people in the right jobs. However, he is not averse to placing members of his own family, and his own daughter has just been placed in an excellent personnel job in the National Defense Council. She is Mrs. Margaret Holmead, and she is supposed to handle job applications to the council.

Applicants complain that they can get no report on what happens to their applications. In fact congressmen do not have much better luck.

Note — Mrs. Holmead's father gets a salary of $10,000 at the White House. However, Mrs. Holmead's salary remains a dark secret. All government salaries are required to be a matter of public record, but Robert Horton, press relations officer of the council, refused to divulge her stipend, referring inquiry to the assistant secretary of the council, Sidney Sherwood. Mr. Sherwood works for Mr. McReynolds. He stated, "No public good can come from disclosing Mrs. Holmead's salary."

Good Neighbor Dollars.

SHORTCUTTING diplomacy, and without waiting for the Havana agreements to be put into action, a group of U. S. department stores and retail buying agencies are sending experts to Latin America next month to try to find new ways for the Latins to serve the U. S. markets.

With their sources in Europe cut off, the stores are eager to do just what the state department wants them to do—buy from the Good Neighbors to create dollar exchange so they can buy from us. The stores are looking for all manner of things, especially handicraft—peasant dresses, glassware, jewelry, petit point, scarves, gloves and knitted sweaters.

The catalogue is long and the need is urgent, especially if they bring goods back before the Christmas season.

The buyers will leave New York September 15, visiting six countries—Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Guatemala and Mexico. They are experts in production and styling, who will pick up what finished work they can find, and lay down U. S. standards and styles for future buying.

Apparently the merchants think this is good business, for the trip will cost between $2,000 and $3,000 per man. There will be ten or a dozen in the group.

Note—The trip has been stimulated by the Inter-American Development Commission, following the so-called Davila plan for opening new resources in Latin America. Most active is Commission Secretary John R. McClintock.

DESPITE his poke at the president on the compulsory training issue, ex-War Secretary Harry Woodring will not join the pro-Willkie bolters. The little Kansan has secret political ambitions and with his eye on the future will remain regular. . . . Senator William King, veteran Utah anti-New Deal Democrat, is having a hard battle to hold his seat. He is being opposed for renomination by Delbert Draper, prominent Salt Lake City lawyer, and Representative Abe Murdock, leader of the New Deal contingent on Capitol Hill. . . . Dr. Francis Townsend, czar of the old-age pension movement, is branching out into a new line. He has launched "a huge nationwide drive to break up and destroy all Fifth Column activities within the United States," according to his formal announcement. Just how he will accomplish this was not disclosed.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—"As usual," notes Abner Glib, the human stymie who unfortunately seems to have escaped his obscurity again, "you miss the point. I mean in that piece you wrote about tipping. You said you knew a waiter who bought a yacht, and another who opened his own restaurant, with the tips he had saved. I believe you. But that isn't the angle that is sapping the vitality of the saps . . . It's the dime and twenty-centers like myself who are paying through the nose, and I for one am beginning to resent it.

"There isn't a day goes by that the accumulated tips I am compelled to distribute wouldn't buy a first class—well, anyway, a very good dinner.

"TAKE today for instance. The holocause began before the sun was barely up. Being tardy for work, I decided to take a taxi from Grand Central to the office. The fare was 35c and the tip was a dime.

"I went down to the drug store for breakfast. Almost anywhere else in the country the matter would have ended there. But in New York the tipping practice has gone to the point where even soda-jerkers' salaries are set with an allowance for prospective tips, and if you don't leave one you are likely to get a mouse in your coffee—or so is the tradition. So there was another dime gone.

"The shoe shine boy came around in the middle of the morning. A shine is a dime but you can't stop there. 'Everybody' kicks in another nickel. Total so far, 25c.

"Lunch meant another 15c, and late in the afternoon I purchased a haircut and shampoo. In Manhattan that comes to $1.20. If a barber charges any less he is apt to be ostracized by his confreres or, at least, have a bomb tossed into his establishment. On a 10 per cent basis, a $1.20 check calls for a 15c cent tip, but my barber announced expectantly that he was leaving for his vacation and I couldn't help giving him an extra nickel send-off.

"After that, I stopped for a glass of beer, and as almost anyone can tell you, bartenders in Manhattan have developed a lovely technique. They spread the change out on the counter, and the dime they hope to get is always a little separated from the rest of your change, so that you are tempted to just ignore that dime. But at this point I staged a one-man rebellion. I picked up all the change. I imagine the bartender is still sore.

I COULD go on like this for days—as for instance the extra tip for the cigaret girl, who also is adept at returning change. The sad point about buying cigarets from girls with trays is that there never is any fixed price. They may be 15c; they may be 25c. They may even be 35c. Unfortunately this girl is very pretty and appealing, and my cigarets cost me all told 27c.

"I started out to itemize all tips for the day, but between the beer and the cigarets I lost count. I do know that for the amount dribbled away I could have had a fine dinner in Kansas City, or Omaha, but then I was a long way from Kansas City or Omaha and in any case I was so befuddled when I got on a homebound bus I dropped a nickel in the slot and absently started to hand the driver a tip. It was only when he almost wrecked us that I came to my senses, and sat down."

A Farmer's Diary

Blackberry Jam

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

IN THE interest of jam for the children's bread, I started up the hill after breakfast to hunt wild berries. The morning air was sweet; the grass was dewy; a balmy east wind was moving.

The bank across from our house is steep and as high as my head. Atop it I saw a few red and black berries hanging in a thicket of brambles. Clutching at thick wiry grass for support, I scrambled up and found that I would have to break a path through the briers or retrace my steps. I chose to break the path.

Grudging, thorny canes clutched at my hat, my hair, my shirt. My ankles and shins caught the barb-like stroke of an angry branch and a thorn lodged in my left shoe and hurt with every step. It was not an auspicious beginning, and for a moment I wondered if the jam would be worth the struggle.

But presently the path I was making broke through into a cleared area where almost every cluster of canes bore a few ripe blackberries. They are not plentiful anywhere hereabouts because it rained during pollination period, early in the summer, and hot dry weather of late has prevented maturing of what fruit might have been.

A rabbit bounded from a tuft of grass and disappeared up trail. I wandered from one small brier patch to another, going always up but slowly and unthoughtfully, so that when I stopped to look about I was surprised to find myself far above the tallest maples in the yard and with a wide, full view of the valley.

It was pleasant. I stood in the shade of a ragged old apple tree behind giant sumacs whose whitened underside of leaves and glossy dark foliage contrasted strikingly with the scarlet clusters of berry-like bloom that adorned them. Shadows were still long and the east wind pleasantly cool. In a sloping area among the sumacs I stood waist deep among dainty flowers, like baby's breath, that bloomed profusely and clothed the slope with fragile, misty charm. I forgot my quest for fruit and went on into the taller timber, just ahead.

I sat awhile upon a giant stump of a long-dead oak beneath a wild grape vine. My hand wandered into the pail of berries and took one out to taste. It was not sweet and it was very seedy, but the flavor was pleasant. My right hand did not know what my left was doing, until with a start I realized that quite a goodly share of what I had picked was gone.

When after a time, I descended the logging trail and came into the home kitchen, my wife remarked "Your lips are stained. I guess berries were scarce."

"They are," I agreed — and showed her the contents of the pail.

But we did have jam! She mixed what I had brought with applesauce, added pectin and sugar, and boiled it. Lo, it became jam. Leave it to a woman!

COUNTY'S CROP LOSSES SLIGHT, CHECK REVEALS

Only 2 of 354 Submit Claims For Damages From Storms, Fires or Insects.

Richland county farmers, who are harvesting one of their best wheat crops in years, probably will have less crop damage this year than in a long time, federal crop insurance figures showed today.

Last year one of every four county farmers who had crop insurance reported a loss as the result of storms, fire, or insect ravages. So far this year only two of 354 farmers with insurance have reported losses.

Other are expected to appear, however, after the wheat crop is harvested this month, according to Howard C. Stone, member of the county AAA committee in charge of federal crop insurance.

For an average rate of 1 2 bushels per acre, or the equivalent in cash, farmers may obtain federal wheat insurance covering up to 75 per cent of their crop. County farmers last year collected 1,528 bushels of wheat from the government for their grain losses.

Stone said all applications for insurance on next year's crop must be filed with the county AAA office on North Diamond street not later than the last day of this month. The premium rate will remain about the same as this year.

The federal insurance plan requires that premiums be paid before the crop to be insured is seeded.

Wheat insurance has been offered by the federal government for two years. This year 354 Richland county farmers obtained insurance as compared to 157 last year. The number is expected to show another increase in 1941.

FUNDS ARRIVE

County Gets $17,595 From Ohio for Bridges, Relief.

Richland county had received $17,595 from the state today to bolster its relief and road and bridge funds.

Approximately $15,000 of the allocation represented the fourth distribution of auto license and gas tax money to the county. All of it must be used to build and maintain roads, streets and bridges.

The county got $2 595 in beer, malt and admission tax money collected in July. The money will go into the direct relief fund Total allocations of beer and admission taxes in the state were $269,451.

CALLS FOR BIDS ON 12 HYDRANTS

City Preparing to Make New Installations on Water Main Extensions.

With plans mapped for water main extensions on several streets, city officials today called for bids on 12 new fire hydrants to complete the projects.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Cratton said that sealed proposals on the hydrants would be received at the office of the board of control until noon, Wednesday, Aug. 28.

Specifications call for delivery of seven five-inch hydrants with six-inch valves and five four-inch hydrants with four inch valves. It also includes 12 valves boxes and six hydrant wrenches. All hydrants are to be equipped with two two and a half-inch hose connections and a four and a half-inch pumper connection.

Cratton said that all proposals must be accompanied by a certified check for surety.

City council at its August meeting Tuesday night authorized the purchase when it approved an appropriation of $1,000 to cover the cost of the project.

LIBERTY LADS FIGHT FOR IT

Fifth of Town Population Enlists In Army.

LIBERTY, Ky. —(AP)— About a fifth of this town's population has joined the army—and residents say the record is proof of willingness to fight for what gave the town its name.

Sixty-six youths signed up this week, bringing to more than 100 the number enrolled during the last 30 days. The population is a little more than 500.

Seven U. S. Jobs Opened to Civil Service Exams

Scheduling of open competitive examinations for seven government positions, by the United States Civil Service commission, was announced in Mansfield yesterday.

Positions for which examinations will be held are junior graduate nurse, U. S. Public Health service, Federal Security Agency and Veterans Administration; senior medical officer, medical officer and associate medical officer, various optional branches: pathologist and veterinarian, chemical warfare service, War Department, and ornithologist, fish and wildlife service, Department of the Interior.

Applications for the first six positions must be filled with the commission's Washington office not later than Sept. 9, and applications for the last named position must be made by Sept. 3.

Full information as to requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained by contacting George H. Hoover, Civil Service secretary, at the Mansfield post-office.

SET FOR LOANS

FCC to Allow Up to $400 on Wheat and Corn.

Federal emergency grain loans up to $400 are available now to Richland county farmers at the Mansfield farm bureau headquarters, Clarence Fealty, district field supervisor for the Federal Farm Credit administration, said today.

Loans will be made on wheat and corn only to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who are unable to get loans from any other source.

Borrowers must give a first lien on their crop as security. The late summer loans are designed particularly to provide funds for financing the seeding of a winter wheat crop this fall, Fealty said.

"Will always give praise to Williamson"

"The Williamson Heater Company:
We are very pleased with our new Williamson Tripl-ife furnace. We used very little more coal than we did with our stove—had more space and it was more comfortable over the entire house. We had never used a furnace before and would hardly believe it could be so nice. Will always have a good word for Williamson."

COURT RECEIPTS HIT 1940 HIGH

General Fund to Get $2,655 of $2,942 Total Collected in Month's Fines.

Municipal court receipts of $2,942 in July were more than $500 ahead of the June revenues and established a new record for the year, the monthly report of collections, prepared by Deputy Clerk Isabel Gertsmeyer, disclosed today.

The city's general fund will be increased $2,655 from fines costs and forfeitures in criminal cases and from costs in civil cases, while $285 will be distributed to state, county and law library.

The city's share of the receipts was derived from $2,337 in criminal cases and $318 from civil cases.

The criminal revenues included $1,044 from fines and costs in city cases, $861 from traffic forfeitures, $127 from state highway patrol cases, $87 in criminal forfeitures and $216 as costs in state cases.

A total of $127 will be distributed to the state highway patrol, $62 to the state liquor department, $85 to the law library, $7 to the sheriff and $2 to the state auditor.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The Andrew Sisters aren't a lot different from movie stars who fight against their roles. Maxine (she's the Andrews in the middle, younger than LaVerne, older than Patty) admits their agent had to work on 'em for two months before they'd do a number they considered "too corny." The agent won, and the record they made was their biggest seller—"The Beer Barrel Polka."

(At the height of the Beer Barrel craze there were people who wished the sisters had been a little more obstinate.)

Preston Foster hasn't been the ladies' man type but look at him go now! In "Northwest Mounted Police" he takes Madeleine Carroll from Gary Cooper, and in "Moon Over Burma" he takes D. Lamour from Bob Preston. . . .

Remember when the voiceless stars used to break into song, courtesy of vocal doubles? Occasionally they still do—but "There's Magic in Music" is taking no chances in audience suspicion. It'll carry a foreword that "The voices and music heard in this photoplay are actually the efforts of those artists who appear on the screen." Reason: Besides Susanna Foster and Allan Jones, there are six child musical prodigies—Heimo Haitto, 15, Scandinavian violinist; Patricia Travers, 12, American ditto; Kaye Connor, 14, singer and fiddler; Dolly Loehr, 12, pianist; William Chapman, 17, singer; and Mary Ruth Kizziar, 7, pianist. . . .

Vincent Price, dropping in from the air for tests for "Hudson's Bay Company," flew east again immediately. He's been doing the straw-hat circuit after a fling at St. Louis. . . . Price has been commuting by air—wanted to take the stratoliner this time but was stopped by Edith Barrett, his wife. . . . Miss Barrett said flying was fine but—"Whom do you know up there? Who'll you talk to—eagles or angels? . . .

The day after the Jane Clayton-Russell Hayden daughter was born, Paramount presented Hayden (the "Lucky" of the Hopalong Cassidy movies) with a four-figure check for his story, "Cattle Train," in which Bill Boyd plays the lead and "Lucky" has a part. . . . The story money is in trust for the new baby. . . .

These baby trusts do mount up. . . . Eddy Duchin made an album of recordings when his child was born, and assigned the nickel-a-copy royalties to the baby. . . . The other day he checked up on the account and had cause to whistle.

Bulletin from the east: Instrumental students at the Ernest Williams Music camp, Saugerties, N. Y., have named Alma Adams, bass tuba-ist with Phil Spitalny's all-girl orchestra, as their "ideal Oompha Girl." . . . And from the west: Jim Davies, Paramount gym instructor, named these as possessors of the screen's "10 best bodies"—Paulette Goddard, Carole Landis, Lana Turner, Betty Grable, Ginger Rogers, Cary Grant, Robert Preston, Errol Flynn, Johnny Weissmuller and Jon Hall. . . .

They're telling it on Raymond Massey ("Abe Lincoln in Illinois") that he's now living the role so thoroughly that he won't sit in a theater box and on his last trip to New York went down to Harlem and freed all the waiters. . . .

Length of the original Great Wall of China, built in the third century B.C., was about 2,550 miles.

LOSES RIGHT TO DRIVE HIS CAR

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, Rolla J. Elliott, jr., 15, R. D. 3, had lost his driving rights for 30 days.

Arrested by police on Park avenue west, the youth was taken before Probate Judge C. J. Anderson who is confined to his home with a foot infection. Judge Anderson paroled the boy to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Elliott.

Police said the boy was driving 50 miles an hour on Park avenue west.

MISS SECRIST AND MR. ENDERLE WED

Rev. Peter Young Performs Quiet Ceremony at Church Parsonage: Couple Living on South Diamond Street.

MR. AND MRS. EARL SECRIST, 255 Auburn avenue, today announced the marriage of their daughter, Luella Nora, to Martin John Enderle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Enderle, 143 West Prospect street. Rev. Peter Young, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was read at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The bride was attired in a green crepe street-length dress with white accessories for her wedding. Her shoulder corsage was of gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Bernice Secrist was her sister's only attendant. She wore a street-length frock of beige crepe, and her shoulder corsage was formed of pink rosebuds, blue delphinium and lilies-of-the-valley. John Enderle, the bridegroom's brother, was the best man.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held for relatives and friends at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Miss Alice Coover of Shelby and Eldon Moser of Shiloh were out-of-town guests in attendance.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Enderle are graduates of Mansfield Senior high school. He also was graduated from the Mansfield Commercial Institute and is now employed in the office of the Tappan Stove company. The couple will reside at 197 South Diamond street.

Mrs. Ricker

Mrs. James Ricker, above, and her husband announced their marriage of Aug. 5, 1939, on their first anniversary this week. Mrs. Ricker was the former Miss Hila Marie Mowry, and she and her husband are residing on the Millsborough road.

Church Group Entertained at Miss Sawyer's

Miss Bertene Sawyer was hostess for a meeting of the Mary Markley society of St. Paul Lutheran church last evening at her home, 236 Rae avenue. The topic for discussion, "Women and the Way in South America," was presented by Miss Olga Lnich.

A social hour followed the business, which was conducted by Miss Louise Seybold, and refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

There will not be another meeting of the society until Sept. 12, when Mrs. Joseph Morganstern will entertain the group at her home, 107 Ford street. Mrs. Russell Hawk will be in charge of the topic at that time.

Fete Miss Kuneman With Linen Shower

Another in the series of prenuptial parties for Miss Helen Kuneman, bride-elect of Ferdinand J. Loykovich, was given yesterday evening by Miss Alverda Hans, Miss Marguerite Creamer, and Mrs. Carroll Protty at the Wickliffe Manor.

Bridge was played at four tables, with score prizes going to Mrs. Milton C. Priess and Miss Lucille Kass, who gave them to the honoree. Luncheon was served then at a large table decorated with garden flowers. Miss Kuneman received a shower of linen gifts from the guests. Mrs. W. F. Feigenbaum and Mrs. Frank Loykovich, mother of the prospective bridegroom, will entertain for the bride-elect next Tuesday evening at the Colonial Guest House on the Wooster road.

New Member Welcomed at Club Meeting

Mrs. Clark Moser was welcomed as a new member of the We club yesterday evening during a meeting at Mrs. Clyde Neff's country home, Maple-Dell. All the members and one guest, Mrs. Lucy Schuler, were in attendance.

The group played cards at three tables, and high score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Sylvester Case, Mrs. George Berg and Mrs. Verne Moser. The luncheon tables were decorated with bouquets of summer flowers.

Mrs. Emma Smith has invited the club members to her home, 54 Home avenue, for the next meeting, which will be held on Sept. 12.

Plan Corn Roast At Outdoor Session

There were 13 members present for the regular monthly meeting of the Koogle Community club yesterday at the Roadside park on U. S. Route 30. Mrs. Raymond Snyder and Mrs. Clay Cole were in charge of serving refreshments.

The club members are planning to have a shower for Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Balliett and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Balliett at the Wilbur Balliett home, Lucas road, on Aug. 23. The date and place of a corn roast will be announced later, and the next routine meeting will be with Mrs. Howard Koogle, Mifflin township, on Sept. 12.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS.

Ten members of the Pioneer club, No. 315, met at the North Lake park Thursday noon for a covered dish dinner. Two guests, Mrs. Theodore Metzger of Canton and Mrs. Charles Hostettler, were in attendance. Following the dinner a routine business session was held after which the afternoon was spent socially. Plans were made to meet for a covered dish dinner at North Lake park on Sept. 5.

GUESTS in town this week were Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Lindsey and their family of Cleveland Heights. . . They came down on Wednesday, and at noon that day had a surprise party for Dr. Lindsey's mother, Mrs. E. H. Lindsey. . . . The affair was a family dinner and was held at the honoree's home on West Third street the occasion being her 80th birthday. . . .Of course there were all sorts of party trimmings but best of all, a birthday cake with 80 candles!

And speaking of birthday parties, had you been at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Roy C. Rehder that evening, you might have seen some of the city's doctors and dentists cavorting about in childish dress. . . . Mrs. Rehder had a birthday surprise for her husband, and all the guests wore "kids" costumes. . . . They all played well-known childhood games during the evening—and then, as an especially nice feature—which, incidentally, doesn't happen very often at parties—each of the guests received a gift—but not before solving intricate clews directing them to various hiding places throughout the home.

Now that August is nearing the half-way mark, unfortunately enough vacations are only memories for lots of folks, but as long as they're pleasant ones, it's nice to reminisce. . . . And such is the case for Betty Eberhard and Gwen Taylor, who returned home yesterday from New York City. . . . They stopped at the New Yorker during their week's stay there and went to see the World fair. . . . They also saw the new musical shows, "Louisiana Purchase" and "DuBarry Was a Lady." Oh yes, and they got a head start on their fall shopping in some of the Fifth avenue stores.

THIS was a busy week for Mrs. R. O. Darling, who's vacationing at Grand Forest beach on Lake Erie, because a group of her Mansfield friends motored up and spent the week at her cottage, "Par-O-Dise." They were Mrs. Charles Britton, Mrs. Fred Garinger, Mrs. Robert Darling and her daughter, Barbara, Mrs. Almond Alexander and her son, Mark and Mrs. M. Brown. . . . Mrs. Nathan Heston, her son, Bobby, her daughter, Darlene, and Unice Coffman of Lucas were along on the sojourn too.

Have you had an opportunity to meet Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hoffman yet? Mr. Hoffman came here from Akron about a month ago to take a position as pharmacist at the Tawse Drug store, while Mrs. Hoffman and their daughters, Marilyne and Carolyne, joined him here this week. . . . Oddly enough, their address is 46 Hoffman avenue.

YESTERDAY marked the beginning of a month's vacation in the west for Dorothy Pearson, niece of Mrs. M. E. Hunter, Davis road. . . . She is enroute now to California, where she will visit with relatives in Los Angeles and San Francisco and take in the Golden Gate exposition. . . . Before returning home, Dorothy will also go to see relatives in Vancouver, Wash., Portland, Ore. and Minneapolis, Minn. . . . She's going out along the southern route and will come back the northern way. . . . Just home from a vacation in Canada are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gordon. . . . Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rowan and their daughter, Mary Evelyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Orr came home last evening following an extended trip through the Smoky mountains.

Did you know that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Caston of Cleveland have been in town this week? They're former Mansfielders, you know—she was Mildred Taylor before her marriage. . . . They're visiting here with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Caston and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Taylor. . . . Oh yes, and their young daughter, Cynthia, has been here for some little time—staying with her grandparents while her parents were taking a Canadian vacation trip.

* * *

AND IN CONCLUSION: Evangeline and Martha White of Wooster, who've been visiting in town for the past several days, have gone to Lakeside for a few weeks. . . . In the fall, Evangeline (who's a graduate of Wooster college) will go to Northwestern university for post-graduate work, while Martha (a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace college will teach home economics in the Wooster high school.

Mrs. Fisher Opens Home For Luncheon

Three new members were welcomed into the Colony club Thursday during a regular meeting. The women accepted into membership in the organization which is composed of newcomers to Mansfield were Mrs. Frank Bunsey, formerly of Cleveland; Mrs. E. F. Weaver, of Tiffin, and Mrs. L. F. Mainzer, of Amherst.

Mrs. J. G. Fisher, 469 Crescent road, was hostess at her home in the afternoon. Sixteen were present and enjoyed the diversion of bridge. A dessert luncheon was served previous to the playing. The next meeting will be held Aug. 22 at the Towne House at 2 p. m.

DANCE AT SCHOOL.

A good attendance was had Wednesday evening for the junior high school dance held at the Johnny Appleseed Junior high school. Fifty-two young men and women enjoyed dancing from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m. Chaperones were J. J. Thoms, Miss Dorothy Moser and Miss Elena Percy of the faculty and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gilbert and Mrs. Howard Hosler. Plans were discussed for the final dance of the summer to be held Aug. 22 at the same hour. At that time a floor show will feature the evening's entertainment.

SOCIAL EVENING.

Mrs. Gray Adkins, 19 Ford avenue entertained members of the Atlas club Thursday evening at her home. Ten were present and enjoyed a social evening. At a late hour refreshments were served buffet style. A dainty centerpiece of garden flowers decorated the table. The next meeting will be held Aug. 22 at the home of Mrs. Walter Beroth, West Fifth street.

PLAY BRIDGE.

Mrs. C. H. Porter, 39 Atcheson avenue, was hostess to members of the Les Huit Femmes club Thursday afternoon at her home. Bridge was the diversion at two tables with score prizes being awarded to Mrs. Joseph Miller and Mrs. Clyde Pittman. At the close of the games refreshments were served at one long table which was decorated with a mixed bouquet of summer flowers. The group will meet for a picnic on Aug. 15, the place to be announced later.

FORTY PRESENT.

The annual family picnic of the Reminiscense club was held at North Lake park Wednesday evening with 40 persons in attendance. Mrs. Ethel Willet and Miss Jenny Burkett were the guests. Mrs. Dora Myers had charge of the business, and Miss Burkett won the monthly prize. The club will meet again on Sept. 4 with Mrs. Fanny Turner, 137 Vennum avenue.

Visiting In City

The above picture was taken of Miss Marianna Cripps as she browsed through a recent magazine on the porch at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Henness, 142 Stewart avenue. Miss Cripps has been spending her two weeks' vacation here, and will entrain soon for her home in Chicago, Ill., where she is employed as a personal buyer at the Carson Piere Scott department store.

Louise V. Wolfe Honored Guest at Spinster Dinner

Miss Carolyn Wolf and Mrs. Deming Lowrey entertained with a spinster dinner party for Miss Louise Wolfe yesterday evening at the Lowrey home, 500 Edgewood road. The honoree will become the bride of Edward H. Reaser of Ashland at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening before the altar of St. Luke's Lutheran church.

The 16 guests at last evening's party were seated at a long table decorated with pink and white appointments. Individual corsages marked each of the places. During the evening, the group hemmed towels, which they presented to the bride-elect.

Later, games were played, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Robert Bank and Miss Harriet Reaser of Ashland. Other out-of-town guests in attendance were Mrs. Ralph Diffendoerfer, Mrs. Arthur Vanosdal, Miss Alice Reaser, Miss Betty Jane Donley and Miss June Freer, all of Ashland. Dr. Charles G. Brown, jr., will give a rehearsal dinner for the couple at the Women's Club this evening.

Missionary Society Has Picnic at Noon

The annual picnic of the Women's Missionary society of the United Brethren church was held Wednesday noon at South park. Mrs. R. O. Scott had charge of the program and Mrs. H. M. Scott read the devotions.

Those who took part in the program were Mrs. Walter Coder, Mrs. Hugh Scott, Mrs. E. C. Crider, Mrs. E. C. Chronister, Mrs. Ward Barrett and Mrs. John H. Miller. Mrs. Leonard Hutzleman conducted the business, and Mrs. R. O. Scott reported on Red Cross work. Mrs. Chronister and Mrs. Harvey Bowser made the arrangements. The next meeting, Sept. 4, will be at the church.

SOCIETY

Weddings — Parties — Clubs

TELL OF NUPTIALS AT EVENING PARTY

Miss Virginia Rimmer and Jennings Heiser Name Aug. 25 as Day for Wedding at First Methodist Church.

WHEN Mrs. D. L. Rimmer and her daughter, Maxine, entertained 28 guests with a party at their home, 53 Lexington avenue, yesterday evening, they announced the approaching marriage date of their daughter and sister, Virginia. Place napkins revealed that Miss Virginia will become the bride of Jennings Heiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Heiser, 149 East Second street, on Aug. 25.

Rev. E. G. Corwin will perform the ceremony before the altar of the First Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock that afternoon. Miss Maxine will be her sister's bridesmaid, and Floyd Bell will serve as the best man. Open church will be observed for the occasion.

Bridge and hearts were in play last evening, and table prizes were awarded to Mrs. Howard Smart of Mt. Gilead, Mrs. Vaughn Sudder of Fredericktown, Miss Eileen Blayney, Mrs. Don Robinson and Mrs. Adam Mayer. Pastel appointments and garden flowers decorated the small tables when luncheon was served, and the honoree received a gift of crystal from the hostesses.

In addition to those already mentioned, out-of-town guests included: Miss Bernice Russell, Loudonville; Mrs. Everett Shippman, Shelby; Mrs. Charles Markley, Lexington; Mrs. Richard Russell, Edison; Mrs. Richard Wagner, Mrs. Richard Wolcott, Miss Leora Lockridge and Miss Maxine Miracle, all of Mt. Gilead.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Lexington high school and an employe of the J. C. Penney company. Mr. Heiser was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is now employed in the office at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

NOON-DAY DINNER.

Nineteen members of the Ladies' Bible class of the Mayflower Congregational church and two guests, Mrs. W. G. Herrold and Mrs. Cleo Hainer were present Wednesday noon for a covered dish dinner at John's Park pavilion. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Tillie Wescott and Mrs. John Wilson. Business was conducted by Miss Bertha Zudwitz. During the afternoon songs were sung and the birthdays of Mrs. Wescott and Mrs. Bishop observed. Plans were made to meet Sept. 6 with the place to be announced later. Miss Zudwitz and Miss Lena Ziegenfus will be in charge.

Recent Bride

The former Miss Betty Welch announced her marriage to George Laughman on July 27 at a party held recently at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Morris. The wedding was solemnized in Russell, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Laughman are making their home at 348 Fair street.

Camay Now In 2 Sizes—For Extra Economy Try New BATH SIZE Camay!
IT'S HERE at last! The very thing women have been asking for—a BATH SIZE Camay! Yes, Camay, the new improved Camay, is now made in two sizes—BATH SIZE and regular size.
This New, Large BATH SIZE is the same wonderful, new Camay you've been hearing about—the same fine quality soap with the same rich, creamy lather and the same outstanding mildness.
It's milder than other leading beauty soaps. We proved this by tests against 6 of the best-selling beauty soaps we could find. Proved that new Camay was milder than any of them. Proved, too, that it gave more abundant lather in a short time . . . had a perfume preferred by almost 2 out of 3 women we asked.
4 Out of 5 Women Prefer the BATH SIZE Camay
We asked scores of women what they thought of BATH SIZE Camay. Their votes were enthusiastic! You'll like it, too! So try this new, convenient aid to daintiness . . . to a lovely skin. Today buy a few cakes of this wonderful new improved Camay in the new BATH SIZE. Make yours a luxury bath . . . a beauty bath.

A NEW BATHING THRILL!
HANDIER! Extra-large cake fits the hand, is easier to hold than the regular complexion cake.
QUICKER! BATH SIZE Camay gives you abundant lather quicker than ordinary size complexion soaps!
MILDER! New, improved Camay—BATH SIZE or regular—is milder than other leading beauty soaps. We proved this by tests against six of the best-selling beauty soaps we could find.
SURE! Camay's thorough cleansing helps make you sure of daintiness!
THRIFTY! New, Large BATH SIZE Camay brings you at a popular price, in a luxury size, as fine a toilet soap as you can buy!
Mrs. Carlon A. Miller, 700 Spencer St., Toledo, Ohio, says of new BATH SIZE Camay, "Camay is my choice for the bath! The new BATH SIZE gives such a lot of lather so quickly—lasts longer, too. Like regular Camay, the BATH SIZE has a gentle touch yet is thoroughly cleansing. It makes every bath refreshing."

Handicap Can Be Advantage

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

An unhappy girl has written to this column that, because she is cross-eyed, she's given up the fight to have friends and be a success. These days young people are operated on successfully for strabismus, the medical term for this condition. My correspondent should seek the best advice and have her eyes operated on, if operative measures are indicated; or she might, like other people with defective eyes, cash in on what she regards as a disfigurement.

Several weeks ago newspapers were flooded with pictures of Ben Turpin, funmaker of the silent films. His crossed eyes were his fortune, even as Eddie Cantor's pop-eyes have been one of his greatest screen assets. Speaking of eyes, Toscanini is so near-sighted that he became impatient reading notes. This handicap put a baton in his hand and made him the greatest of modern conductors.

Would President Roosevelt ever have attained the highest office in the gift of the nation if it hadn't been for his physical handicap? There is a story to the effect that his wife and the late Louis Howe, his secretary, would not let him for a moment consider himself an invalid after he had fallen a victim to infantile paralysis. They took turns at reading to him all night long, heartening him, minimizing his illness. And whether you're pro-Roosevelt or anti-Roosevelt, you've got to admit the magnificence with which F. D. R. has never allowed this handicap to curtail his work as president of the United States.

John Barrymore was not a howling success as a cartoonist. He shifted to acting—you know the rest. In the beginning it was thought that Ethel's husky voice might not take with the public. But it scored above the usual feminine squeaks and tremolos and made her a conspicuous favorite.

Speaking of voices, the great Mrs. Fiske had no voice at all from the standpoint of vocal experts. Her words ran together, and yet Alexander Woollcott, in his laments for things that have passed, wrote: "I shall never again hear the wonder of Mrs. Fiske's voice in the theater." Her voice was hypnotic; you felt rather than heard the things she interpreted.

O. Henry, most successful of short story writers, mastered the art of writing while serving a prison sentence, now conceded to have been unjust.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"Do you know, Katie," I said soothingly, "I imagine Jim is very busy, too, with this work of my father's."

She threw up her head, and a gleam of sudden comprehension came into her eyes.

"Dot vot eet ees, all right," she said. "He no tell me nuddings, except he got so mooch vork to do, he can't keel me no scheekens und I vant dem so bad."

"I don't believe you'd have time to do anything with them, even if Jim had killed them. Why did you want them?"

"For scheeken pie for dinner," she wailed.

"But you know I wouldn't want them used until tomorrow anyway," I said. "They should hang a day. And, anyway, we shall only have time for a picnic dinner tonight — the very simplest — out of things ready cooked and from cans."

Precaution Against Snipers.

"Me, I got plenty of tings," Katie boasted, drying her eyes. "I got almost whole baked ham, und pan baked beans, und cakes und cookies und pies, und a nice beeg pot of soup almost done, und—"

"Don't tell me any more, Katie," I begged, "or I shall forget my errand, and demand another lunch. And I can see I don't have to worry about dinner. After awhile you can put some potatoes and yams into bake, and with a bit of green salad, we'll have a dinner fit for a king."

"You mean a qveen, don't you?" Katie queried with a sly look, and I laughed dutifully at her sally.

"I'm sure she'll enjoy it," I told her, "and now sit down, while I tell you what we have to do this afternoon."

She kept her eyes widely fixed on me as she obeyed me, and I knew that she was thrilling at the prospect of having a role in the melodrama we were living from day to day. But surprisingly she kept silent, and I rushed hurriedly into the tale of my father's request that we bar and drape all windows so no light could reach outside, even in the daytime.

"I know why dot," she said knowingly. "Your fader afraid somebody mit long rifle try to pick off peoples eef dey see shadows on windows."

"Probably," I said, "and the men are all busy putting up the bars. But he also wants all the women and children to sleep downstairs until this danger is over, for fear of fire."

"Fire!" she repeated, her face blanching. "Oh-h vot becoom of all my nice tings, my embroideries, my blankets I bring from old country, oh-oh!"

"We'll arrange for all that, Katie," I said quickly. "Just now, I want you to listen and look quietly while I show you what we have to do. You know where everything is, but you won't have to work alone. Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Bickett and I will help you until the last thing is in place."

"I no need anybody," she boasted, but when I outlined the formidable task before her, she modified her statement.

"I guess maybe eef I get dot done by dark, somebuddy got help me," she said.

"Of course," I assured her. We'll all help you."

"I suppose best ting ees get library und your study all cleared first," she said. "Eet all cleaned goot, but I run dust mop und vacuum ofer eet leetle bit."

"I'll come and help you move the furniture," I said, and we forthwith departed for the library.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, August 10.

Rather adverse planetary conditions prevail on this day. There may be delays, reversals and obstacles of a most determined nature and difficult to cope with. There may also be situations of a belligerent character, taking self-restraint, patience and fortitude. Amiability and strategy will succeed in such strained relations rather than strife, recklessness and tumult. A sign recommending compromise and finesse may help break down resistance and hostility. All possessions should be definitely safeguarded.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of difficulties, with tenacious obstacles, delays, hostility and vindictive opposition. This may come from superiors, employers, elders and may best be placated by compromise and tact rather than turbulence and strife. As well there is need for protecting all sorts of possessions.

A child born on this day may be difficult to understand and guide, having at once a turbulent and fiery nature and also much reserve and restraint. It will probably be enterprising, strenuous and have much creative ability.

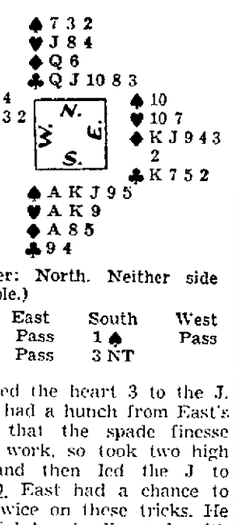
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

NO SIGNAL EXPENSIVE

You cannot afford to use for signaling purposes a card which probably will be needed later to take a trick. But then there is almost never any need to do such a thing. A low discouraging card in some other suit will generally tell your partner you don't want that suit led, and by indirection convey to him the idea that you prefer something else. And, if you get a chance for low-card signals in two suits, he has no alternative left but to feed you the suit you desire.



(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	3 NT

West led the heart 3 to the J. Declarer had a hunch from East's 10 play that the spade finesse wouldn't work, so took two high spades and then led the J to West's Q. East had a chance to discard twice on these tricks. He gave a high-low in diamonds with the 9 and 2. So, when West took the third spade, he obeyed instructions by leading his diamond 10. The dummy's Q covered it, so did East's K and declarer ducked, since he now held a "fourchette" of the A-8 over the J-4.

East returned a heart, which declarer won with the A. South then led a club to East's K, and the latter exited with another club to the A. West could now have set the contract with a heart lead to the K; declarer, after two spades, would have had to lead from his last two diamonds, giving East the setting trick. But West, having another diamond, thought East wanted the suit led again, expecting him to have the J-9-8. This bad bridge gave South two tricks in the suit and game. If East, instead of signaling with his diamond 9 had tossed off the club 2 and then the 5, West could not have gone wrong, as East would have had the diamond J and 9 after the first trick in the suit.

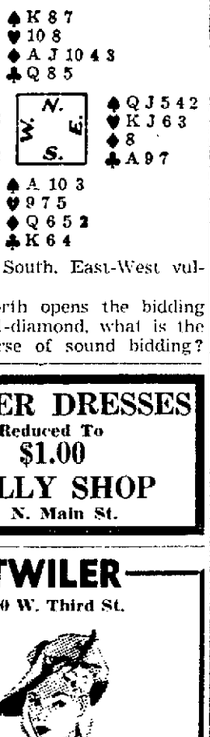
Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

After North opens the bidding here with 1-diamond, what is the proper course of sound bidding?

LUCKY FOR LOVE + + + + + +

CHAPTER XIII.

"Yes, and I've got to stop her for the Chief's sake and Metropole's sake, too. We'll go back to the hotel where we had breakfast and get you settled. I'll contact the Chief, let him know you've arrived and that the situation is NOT well in hand. Then we'll have a nip o' lunch and draw up plans for our next offensive."

* * *

At lunch, Marilyn told Al of her offer from Clarco.

Al did a rocket and came down fizzing.

"Clarco Company! Why they're in New York."

"Yes, they are. The main offices are on Fifth avenue."

"Which means you'll stay here? You'll turn honest pennies in big town?"

"Perhaps. It depends on whether they'll still want me after they talk to me. I want to see them today, as soon as I can."

"The Duchess here in New York! On the campus! In circulation!" Al danced around in a seventh heaven of delight." My salutations, Smartypie. And don't forget, when you're a big shot promotion man, that I am the lug who saw you first, in Millville."

The offices of Clarco company were impressive. Spacious, smooth, easy on the eyes.

James L. Dawson, director of personnel, was interviewing a prospective employe, Marilyn Marsh.

"The work will be intensive, what we call high-presure these days," he said, "but I think you will find it interesting, absorbing. The hours are from nine until four, with an hour for lunch. We observe the five-day week. Your immediate superior will be one of the cleverest women in the promotion field, one of the most efficient and—one of the most exacting. Service under her should be invaluable, if you are anxious to learn and willing to accept discipline. Miss Edna Cook—the woman of whom I speak—agreed that your single line completing Clarco's jingle was highly original and much beyond any other entry in aptness. She will be pleased to welcome you into her department. As I wrote you, the salary will be fifty dollars a week, in return for which Clarco shall want more lines of the kind you submitted, addition to other promotion material which will be explained to you. Have I made myself clear, Miss Marsh?"

"Perfectly, and thank you. When shall I report for work?"

Marilyn discovered she was trembling. It all seemed so unreal. She in New York, reporting for work! Might she wake up and find herself behind the book counter in the Bon Ton, in Millville, Sally shaking her and saying, "Snap out of it, Lynn! Time to homeward wend our wearyway." A nostalgia for the end of that homeward way swept over her in a great wave that left her empty, poignantly lonely.

"Let's see." Mr. Dawson consulted a sheet of names and figures. "Tomorrow morning, if you can come that soon."

"Thank you. I'll be here at nine o'clock. I'll try very hard to justify your belief in me."

"Report to the young man at the information desk as you come in. He will show you to your department and introduce you to Miss Cook."

Al called for Marilyn at six o'clock that evening, elated at her decision to accept Clarco's offer.

"The event calls for a celebration," he declared. "Call your number, Heartbeat. Shall it be a swishy spot in one of our better hotels- Or a steak and choppery with the food business of the evening? Or a lobster palace with swing band attachment? You call your number; I'll spin the wheel."

"They all sound thrilling—but—may I tell you where I'd really love to go?"

"If you don't—"

"To one of the little foreign restaurants I've read about, Italian or French or Chinese—any kind just so it's foreign. I've never been to any place like that—it would be like taking a trip to another country."

"Hardly, but it'll give you a rough idea of what goes on around mealtime. Now for a start—let's say—Italino. Spaghetti wrestlers. Have just the spot. Down on Mulberry street. Pop Monetas. Pop serves Italian food that makes you warble "O Sole Mia." Get your hat, duchess. The festive board awaits.

"Al, you idiot," Marilyn laughed. "Don't you ever talk straight?"

"Me? Madame, I'll have you know my English is as pure as the riven—I mean driven snow. As my professor at deah old Ha-vahd said to me, he said, "Al, my man——"

"Suppose you save what he said until we get where we're going. I'm being eaten by curiosity."

"And I'm sure curiosity finds you a very palatable dish. Next stop Mulberry street!"

Monetas, famed among devotees of good eating for the foods of Italy, faces a small island of public park in downtown New York. The Bowery bounds it on the east. Chinatown on the north, the pushcart district on the west and towering municipal buildings, monuments to law and order, on the south. All around and about Monetas' the melting pot boils and bubbles, reducing its strange admixture of races and creeds to a plastic and unpredictable bulk known as John Q. Citizen.

Within Monetas' a quiet atmosphere of peace and plenty reigns. There are aromas to tickle the nostrils and tastes to tantalize the palates. The setting is commonplace, but the viands are masterpieces of culinary art in Italy.

"We'll start at the top and go right down the line," Al said. "These bambinos can't scare us with their heaping platters." He ordered, leaned back in his chair with an air of accomplishment, was reminded suddenly of an important omission.

"I forgot to tell you, H. B., that red wine goes with an Italian dinner. The juice of the grape. Vino. Sort of like bacon and eggs, chicken and gravy, Amos 'n' Andy. Wouldn't sip a beaker of grape with the eatables?"

"I'll sip it if you'll ask the waiter for plain grape juice without any 'vino' in it," Marilyn agreed. "It's mighty potent that way. Sure it won't knock you over?"

"Never has. I take it practically every morning for breakfast."

"Then I'll give it a try. Heaven help me if the boys in the Stork Club ever hear about this. Why so serious, Little One?"

"I was thinking—wouldn't it have been better, Al, if we'd tried to find Clara? Walk in as though our being there was merely an accident. Perhaps she'd relent and ask us to join her. She might tame down with me present. It isn't too late, even now——"

"Oh yes it is." Al was certain. "I give you twenty to one I know exactly where Blondie is and where she'll be later on. Never have I seen a gal become an habitue as fast as she does. She's expecting us, lying in wait for us. She has it all cooked up how she's going to handle us. If we don't show up, she'll feel cheated. She'll think maybe we don't care how wild she runs. That will annoy her no little. She wants to be the big squash, with one and all at her mercy."

"You may be right. Still, I feel so terribly inadequate——"

"Let her thrash around for a couple of days. We'll run up on her when she thinks we've gone bye-bye, like she told us to do. Get set, Juliet, here comes the first round. Antipasto. A selection of whatnots doused in oil and vinegar. We go in there fighting and we stay with the cutlery until the last plate is licked clean."

Antipasto. Minestrone. Spaghetti Veneziana. Pollo Cacciatora. Zabaglione. Bel Paese. Caffe.

Never had Marilyn tasted such food!

"My eyes are plain popping out of my head," Marilyn groaned. "Do you suppose the Italian people eat this way all the time?"

Al looked rather beaten himself. "I suppose they do" he said. "When they can get it at Papa Monetas."

TWO BOOKS AT LIBRARY DEAL WITH NAZI PLAN

Erika Mann Tells How Life Is Lived Under Hitler in Series of Short Stories.

The effect of Nazi philosophy upon individuals, cities and nations is pictured in two volumes of fiction that are on the list of new books at the Public library this week. One is by Erika Mann, daughter of Thomas Mann, distinguished refugee from Germany.

THROUGH THE HOUSE DOOR by Helen Hull tells the story of two women forced or persuaded by circumstances to be the economic heads of their families. The younger, Beatrice Downing, becomes a radio columnist when her brilliant scientist husband goes blind. Her mother, Agatha Townsend, takes up the successful writing of cheap fiction because her second husband, Humbert, is charmingly irresponsible and financially incompetent.

THE LIGHTS GO DOWN by Erika Mann, translated by Maurice Samuel, is a collection of ten stories picturing life in Nazi Germany. A typical Bavarian town serves as the scene, with the townspeople struggling ineffectually against the hold of the Nazi power.

THE ENGLISH AIR by Dorothy E. Stevenson, author of "Miss Buncle's Book," is an exciting novel of two young people in love whose countries go to war. After escape from the Nazis Franz von Heiden goes to England, his mother's homeland, and the home of his sweetheart.

OTHER FICTION: AFRICAN POISON MURDERS by Huxley.

AWAKE! MY HEART by Thielenes.

SAME WAY HOME by Croft-Cooke.

Non-fiction: — WIN YOUR WINGS by Colonel Roscoe Turner and Jean H. Dubuque is a practical and comprehensive primary aviation training manual for the student pilot and instructor. The diversified instructions contained in Volume I are intended to enable a reader to pass the written examination given by the Civil Aeronautics authority for a private pilot certificate. Volume II provides the subjects necessary to qualify for a commercial pilot certificate as well as an instructor rating.

AND FEAR CAME by John T. Whitaker is the personal philosophy of a news correspondent who has witnessed the collapse of the postwar peace effort. He relates his experiences with Mussolini's army in Ethiopia, and later at points of crisis in Europe, showing the effects of war's horror and hatred.

YOU CAN LIVE IN AN APARTMENT by Dorothy Duncan tells you how to fit your life and activities into an apartment, making a home of it. Also the book explains the legal aspects of renting, subletting and leasing.

OTHER NON-FICTION:

THIS CONSTITUTION OF OURS by Allen.
